Twenty-Five Per Cent Exemption Allowed on Earned Incomes Will Apply Up to $20,000.

PUBLICITY CLAUSE CHANGE APPROVED

House Committee, Framing Revenue Bill, Decides Not to Abandon Capital Stock Levy.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Reduction of the inheritance tax rate and repeal of the gift tax and publicity income tax returns were voted today by the House Ways and Means Committee in its consideration of a new revenue bill. The maximum inheritance tax rate was cut from 40 per cent to 25 per cent. The committee also decided to increase from 25 to 30 per cent the credit allowed in payment of the federal inheritance tax for the amounts paid on similar state levies. While deciding to prohibit publication of income tax returns by individuals, the committee voted to retain provisions of the present law authorizing publication of the names and addresses of income taxpayers, and opening the books to inspection by the House Ways and Means Committee, Senate Finance Committee or any special committee appointed by Congress for that purpose. The limit on which the 25 per cent deduction for earned income may be made by taxpayers was increased by the committee from incomes of $10,000 to incomes of $20,000. The committee rejected proposals to repeal the capital stock tax and modify the corporation level of 12 1/2 per cent. Suggestions that more corporations be allowed to file as partners and that partners in some instances be allowed to file returns as corporations were turned over to a subcommittee. Saving of $7,000,000. By extending the limit to which earned income credit may be applied it was estimated taxpayers would be saved $7,000,000 annually. The committee voted also to reduce the graduated surtax rates from one per cent on the amount of income in excess of $10,000. Under revised estimates Chairman Green figured that changes so far voted by the committee would result in a loss of revenue aggregating $190,000,000 annually. The committee yesterday voted reduction in the maximum surtax rate from 40 to 20 per cent, and down the normal rates, and increased the personal exemption. Increasing the exemptions from $1,000 to $1,500 for single persons and from $2,500 to $3,500 for married persons the committee reduced more than 1,000,000 persons the necessity of paying any tax, as well as reducing the burden of all others on the general rolls. New Normal Rates. The new normal rates voted by the committee would reduce from 14 1/2 per cent the rate on the first $4,000 of taxable income, cut from 4 per cent to 3 per cent the rate on the next $4,000, and a 5 per cent levy instead of the present 6 per cent applying on the income in excess of $8,000. The following table shows the effect of the new rates on incomes of married men without children under $10,000:

Income	Present Tax	New Tax
$2,000	0.00	0.00
$3,000	0.00	0.00
$4,000	0.58	0.58
$5,000	1.16	1.16
$6,000	1.74	1.74
$7,000	2.32	2.32
$8,000	2.90	2.90
$9,000	3.48	3.48
$10,000	4.06	3.50

Grotesque Shapes in Marble From Missouri Identified as Fossilized Shells.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The floor of the Field Museum is 350,000,000 years old. Visitors and officials have been walking across the marble unknowing that they were treading a veritable paleontological carpet. Grotesque shapes imbedded in it have been identified by Dr. H. W. Nichols of the department of geology of the museum as fossilized shells that lived in the Mississippi Valley before the dawn of history. The fossils include coralline type of shell called archimedes, the crinoid or stony lily, the clam and brachiopod. The marble was quarried in Missouri.

COURTMARTIAL OF GERMANS ABANDONED BY BELGIUM

Locarno Agreement Quashes "Purely Academic" Actions Against War Offenders.

By the Associated Press. BRUSSELS, Nov. 6.—The Belgian Government has decided to abandon courtmartial of German officers and soldiers charged with crimes during the occupation. The Locarno agreement of peace yesterday above a courtmartial of yesterday just as the presiding officer was about to pronounce the sentence of death upon Col. Merin, convicted of murder. Official instructions were received from the Ministry of Justice, that the case had been struck from the calendar and that all similar cases pending were quashed. The accused men were never present at these trials, and the sentences were purely academic.

German Guests at French Dinner.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 6.—The spirit of Locarno prevailed last night at the French Embassy, where the German Ambassador and Frau Scharrer were among the dinner guests. This was the first time since the war that either French or German envoys had crossed the threshold of the other's Embassy. The Belgian, Brazilian and Japanese diplomatic representatives were also there.

TELLS DRY LEAGUE PROHIBITION LAW PENALTY IS WEAK

Chairman of Congressional Investigating Committee Says Fines Operate as Liquor Licenses.

POINTS OUT INCREASE IN ALCOHOL OUTPUT

Declares, However, That Canvass Shows General Agreement on Benefits of Prohibition.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A report of the congressional investigation of enforcement of the Volstead law was given in an address prepared for delivery before the Anti-Saloon League convention today by Representative Grant M. Hudson of Michigan, chairman of the congressional committee. The information was gained from thousands of questionnaires sent out by the committee to Federal and state officers, social and welfare organizations and leaders in industrial and commercial life. "It is very doubtful if any brewer in the United States today can successfully operate a so-called near-beer business," Representative Hudson said, "unless they run it in connection with some other business or violate the law. The law should be amended so as to make all manufacturers of cereal beverage plants obtain a Government permit. So long as there are breweries there will be attempted violations."

The control of the genuine whiskey supply in the country, Hudson said, was quite effective now. 22,000,000 of the 33,000,000 gallons still in bond are in concentration warehouses and the previous leaks fairly well stopped. Even the distribution of this is growing less, he said, because four states—New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and California—are credited with more than 60 per cent of the total production issued for liquor for medical purposes. There are 23 states, the questionnaire brought out, where physicians cannot legally prescribe liquor.

Alcohol Production Increases.

The committee of Congressmen estimated that there is a leakage of about 6,000,000 gallons of distilled alcohol a year into bootleg channels for redistribution, of the 133,597,752 produced in the last year. The production of alcohol has grown tremendously, he said, since the advent of prohibition, increasing from slightly less than 100,000,000 gallons in 1920 to nearly 136,000,000 last year. The increasing manufacture of artificial silk and leather each take 1,000,000 gallons a year, but quite a bit of the increase goes into synthetic liquor.

"The great weakness of the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment," said Hudson, "has been lack of adequate penalties. The system of fines operates only as a license law. The increasing number of convictions compared to the total number of cases indicates a growing determination to stamp out law violations."

The questionnaires, Hudson said, were almost unanimous in their expression of the benefits resulting from prohibition, the replies showing figures on decreased pauperism, increase of prosperity among working men, increase in home owning and life insurance.

Alcoholic Deaths.

"There is a divergence of opinion in the matter of the death rate from alcohol," the committee report said. "In 1922 the death rate had been 2.6, about one-half the rate when prohibition became effective, but this was an increase of almost 1 per cent over 1921 and 1923 brought the death rate up to 3.2. The lowest rate in the five wet years was 4.1 in 1915. How much of this increased percentage in 1922 and 1923 is due to synthetic liquor is hard to estimate, but the fact is that there is not less any of the old alcoholism of former days."

"A million lives have been saved by the decrease in death rate, of which no one can deny that prohibition has been a large factor."

In reply to the advocates of modification of restrictions on the alcoholic content of permitted drinks, Hudson quoted results of his investigation among officials of Canadian cities where beer and light wines have been brought back, but encouraged by St. Louis artists, has made startling progress in the modern art of linoleum cutting.

2937-MILE NONSTOP RUN IN 67 HOURS, NEW TRAIN RECORD

Oil Electric Car Was Devised by Canadian Railways for Branch Lines.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. MONTREAL, Nov. 6.—World records were smashed Wednesday when one of the new oil electric cars of the Canadian National Railways completed a run from Montreal to Vancouver, a distance of 2937 miles, in 67 hours. Not only was this the fastest run on record for such a distance, but it is the longest nonstop run in rail transportation, as during the trip the engine of the car did not once stop running.

From first to last the trip demonstrated the great possibilities of the oil electric car, an entirely new type of transportation evolved by the engineers of the Canadian National Railways to solve branch line problems and to meet bus line competition. At one point the car covered 22 miles in less than 20 minutes and one of the steepest roads in the Rocky Mountains was climbed at an average speed of 40 miles an hour. The average speed for the entire trip was slightly under 43 1/2 miles an hour.

The engine burns fuel oil and in turn operates an electric generator, which produces the energy by which the car is moved. The oil engine is the lightest of its kind in the world outside of aeronautical practice, and with the generator is confined to a small space in one end of the car, which has seating accommodations for 57 passengers.

SIDNEY T. BIXBY FINED $200 IN DRY CASE AT ST. CHARLES

Defendant, Five Hours Late, Enters Plea of Guilty When Summoned by Phone.

Sidney T. Bixby, of 26 Portland place, was fined $200 and costs when he pleaded guilty of possession of intoxicating liquor in Circuit Court at St. Charles today. He appeared five hours late, and got to court only after he was reminded by telephone that he was scheduled for trial. The case against Bixby grew out of arrest Oct. 29 in a soft drink parlor in St. Charles. A policeman said he poured whiskey into a glass and proceeded to drink with a friend.

The trial was set for 9 a. m. today. At 1 p. m. Judge Woolfolk ordered the bond forfeited and had a court attach telephone Bixby. He said he had understood the grand jury had released him. Judge Woolfolk threatened to cite him for contempt after he was fined, but was persuaded to withdraw the threat and the bond forfeited.

NO SHORTAGE OF TURKEYS

Plentiful Supply for Thanksgiving Is Reported.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—There will be plenty of turkeys for Thanksgiving, the Department of Agriculture said today, reporting the crop only 4 per cent smaller than last year.

Increased production was reported in all states, except Texas, Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma and California, with the crop in most sections hatched earlier than usual and in fairly good condition. Turkey fairs bared badly in Texas, however, due to the drought, with the crop 20 per cent less than last year. Hatching in that state also was later than usual and many of the birds are of light weight and only fair quality.

GRAND JURY CALLS EMPLOYEES TO TELL OF FERGUSON-M'KINNEY FRAUDS

PLOT TO REMOVE KING, MAKE ITALY REPUBLIC ALLEGED

Rome Newspaper Says Conspiracy to Kill Mussolini Also Was Aimed at Savoy Dynasty.

SOLDIERS PATROL VARIOUS CENTERS

Troops Thrown Around Headquarters of Socialists and Free Masons in Justinian Palace.

By the Associated Press. ROME, Nov. 6.—That the plot to assassinate Premier Mussolini was only a detail of a general conspiracy designed not only to suppress the Fascist chief and the present government, but to overthrow the Savoy dynasty and declare an Italian republic is the statement made in a detailed report published today by the Epoca. The newspaper, which is usually well-informed in matters of the highest political importance, does not reveal the source of its information.

By the Associated Press. ROME, Nov. 6.—Troops with bayonets today are cordoning headquarters of the Socialist party and that of the Free Masons in the Justinian Palace, where, it is said, a plot to assassinate Premier Mussolini, as he stood on the balcony of the Chigi Palace during the celebration of the anniversary of Italy's victory over Austria, was formulated.

Soldiers also are guarding other Free Mason and Socialistic gathering places, the offices of newspapers opposed to the Fascist Government and various centers which possibly might be attacked by Fascist, who are enraged over the alleged plot to enrage the premier.

Last evening crowds gathered in the public squares, cheered Mussolini, and sang Fascist hymns. Premier Addresses Crowd. The premier appeared on his balcony and addressed the people below. He impressed upon them the necessity for the maintenance of order and demanded that they obey. He exacted a pledge that there would be no disorder or violence.

Tito Francesco Zaniboni, former Italian Socialist deputy, who, it is asserted, was to have fired the shot to kill Mussolini; Signor Quaglia, editor of Il Popolo, and Gen. Luigi Capello are held in prison. Zaniboni has an excellent war record, but Capello has been popularly regarded as responsible for Italian defeats by the Austrians.

The plot to murder the premier was discovered several weeks ago by Luigi Federzoni, Minister of the Interior. Detectives then watched the movements of suspects connected with the plot.

Early Wednesday Zaniboni arrived at the hotel and was escorted to the reserved room. He was attired in the uniform of a Major and wore his war decorations. He afterward police entered and took him into custody.

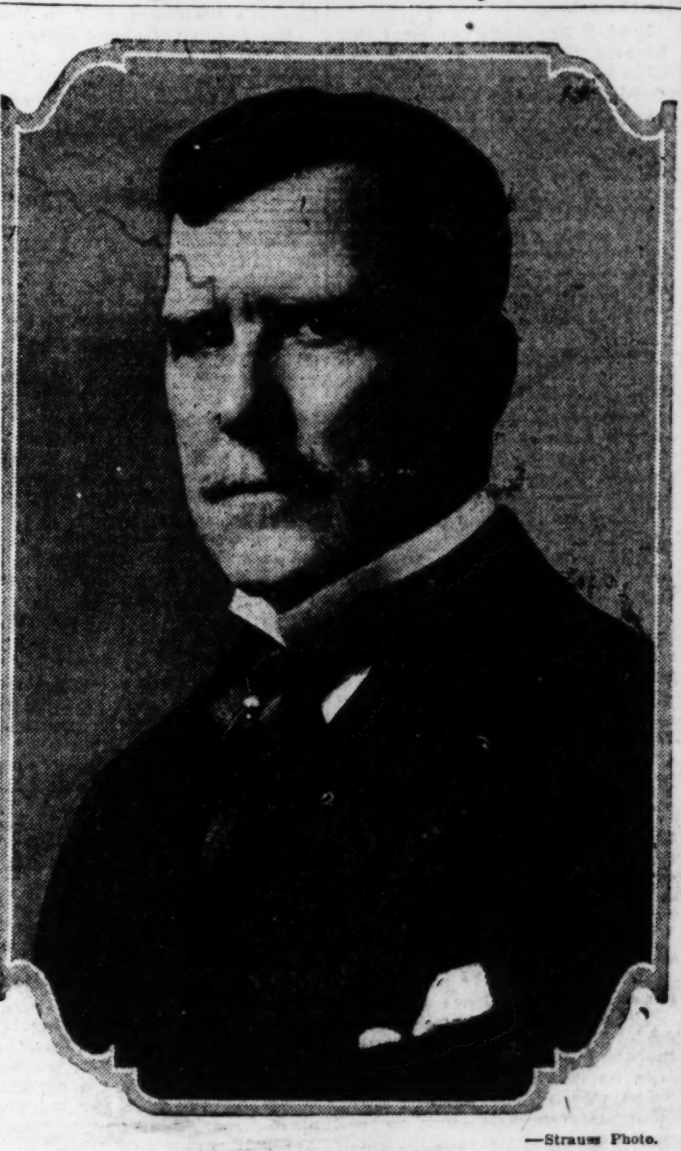

It is asserted that a rifle with a telescopic sight was found in his baggage.

The exact connection of Gen. Capello with the case has not been made public, but it is asserted he was the chief conspirator.

Accused by Bankers of Ferguson-McKinney Frauds

MURRAY CARLETON.

CARLETON FROM HOSPITAL DIRECTED AFFAIRS OF THE FERGUSON-M'KINNEY CO.

Apparently He Never Gave Up Hope of Averting Crash Until Week Ago When His Strength Failed Him.

Though seriously ill in St. Luke's Hospital, and now dangerously so, Murray Carleton, who yesterday was charged by bankers with directing the $3,300,000 credit frauds that brought the crash of the Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Co., of which he was treasurer and actual owner, kept his hands on the affairs of the company until the beginning of last week.

For years he had visited the company's office daily and after he became ill, each day, Alfred Baggot, his right-hand man in the company, carried books and papers to him at the hospital. Each day Forrest Ferguson, president, visited him. Carleton, who is 73 years old, underwent an operation for cancer of the bladder seven weeks ago. He emerged from the operation weak but grimly determined still to struggle on against the blow that for years he feared was inevitable.

It was found that reservations had been made by a man for a "wounded friend" who was coming to Rome for the celebration. The friend desired a room from which he could watch the parade and insisted that it face the balcony from which Mussolini usually reviews patriotic processions.

Early Wednesday Zaniboni arrived at the hotel and was escorted to the reserved room. He was attired in the uniform of a Major and wore his war decorations. He afterward police entered and took him into custody.

It is asserted that a rifle with a telescopic sight was found in his baggage.

The exact connection of Gen. Capello with the case has not been made public, but it is asserted he was the chief conspirator.

Additional arrests are expected. Order reigned throughout the entire country today, although excitement was high.

Plot Hatched in France. Messenger, semi-official newspaper, prints a detailed report designed to prove that the plot was hatched in France by anti-Fascist sympathizers of other than Italian nationality. Indeed, says and tell them that something was wrong at Ferguson-McKinney.

Discovery of Bankers. The bankers no more than opened the books to discover that something, indeed, was wrong. The business was Murray Carleton, who they found to be a hunk. And the man who had been his prop, they swiftly learned, had been unworthy of their estimate.

The bankers rushed quickly to Carleton's bedside. "It's terrible," he said, and turned his head on the pillow and closed his eyes. There was no more discussion. The friend who carried him the message returned the next day and found his strength fast ebbing. His voice was weak and it was necessary to lean over him closely to catch his words. Those few who have stood with him by daily visits say that the blow has fallen heavily.

"Kiting" Schemes Bared. Yesterday's accusatory statement by the bankers, first given to the public by the Post-Dispatch, confirmed in detail what the Post-Dispatch has disclosed in the last few days—the "kiting" of the company's books, not by one scheme, but by several. The bankers fixed the ultimate responsibility upon Murray Carleton, and those subordinates who gave the bankers their understanding of the crash say also that Murray Carleton devised the manner of the "kiting," showed them the way in which the company could, in its statements, be made to appear prosperous, when, as a matter of fact, it was hopelessly bankrupt.

It was a letter, sent by Murray Carleton and signed by him, in which the company's financial statements, that led the bankers to extend their $3,300,000 of credit. And now the manner in which that statement was padded to give the appearance of health to a wasted shell stands forth clearly.

It was necessary for the Carleton-Ferguson company to make a statement to the banks only once a year. Upon that statement the banks set the maximum sum that they would lend the company at any

SECRETARY OF THE COMPANY FIRST TO BE QUESTIONED

Action by Circuit Attorney Sidener Follows His Decision to Take Initiative in Inquiry.

U. S. INVESTIGATION ALSO PROBABLE

Alfred Baggot, Man Called, Closest to Murray Carleton and His Conduct of Bankrupt Firm.

Alfred F. Baggot, secretary of the Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Co., was summoned to the Circuit Attorney's office this afternoon for questioning as to his knowledge of the $3,300,000 crash of the company. It was the Circuit Attorney's intention, if Baggot's information seemed useful, to take him before the grand jury next week.

Issuance of forthwith subpoenas for employees of the Ferguson-McKinney company, so that the grand jury could obtain their information about frauds within the company, followed the Circuit Attorney's announcement in the forenoon that an immediate investigation would be made by the grand jury, with a view to returning indictments.

Among the first to be questioned will be members of the Bankers' Creditors' Committee, who yesterday, in a formal statement, declared that the fraudulent padding of the company's books and the criminal transfer of funds between the Carleton Dry Goods Co. and Ferguson-McKinney, for credit purposes, were "under the direct instructions of Mr. Murray Carleton, and with the full knowledge of Mr. Forrest Ferguson."

Gave Information to Bankers. Baggot is one of three subordinates of Murray Carleton and Forrest Ferguson in the Ferguson-McKinney and Carleton Dry Goods companies, who furnished information to the bank creditors' committee that was the basis of the committee's statement.

Of all subordinates, Baggot perhaps was the closest to Murray Carleton in his conduct of the affairs of the Ferguson-McKinney company and its holding company, the Carleton-Ferguson company. It was he who, during the illness of Carleton, carried papers of the company to St. Luke's Hospital, suspending his visits only at the beginning of last week, when the crash loomed up as inevitable and Carleton grew too weak to carry on.

Paralleling the local grand jury inquiry, it is likely that the Federal authorities will investigate the use of the mails in connection with the Ferguson-McKinney credit dealings, with a view to action by the Federal grand jury. Postoffice Inspector Reuter, in charge of the St. Louis office, said today that he had sent a preliminary report to Chief Inspector Simmons, at Washington, and would await further instructions. The District Attorney's office can present the matter to the Federal grand jury only after the Postoffice Inspectors have obtained evidence of actual use of the mails in connection with fraudulent transactions.

Sidener to Take Initiative. Circuit Attorney Sidener, in announcing his decision to make an immediate investigation, said he had not received any complaint from any interested person or from the police, and that he would ordinarily await such complaint before proceeding.

"But in the present instance," he said, "the business community and the public are so vitally interested that I believe it is my duty to take the initiative. If big business men can in this manner devote bankers and other business people, and if by false pretenses employees and others have been induced to put their last dollar into a business on

BANKRUPT FIRM ONCE SAVED FROM RUIN BY CARLETON

Ferguson-McKinney Mfg. Co. Was in Financial Difficulty and Pressed by Creditors in 1913.

HOLDING COMPANY
SOLVED THE PROBLEM

Fortune of Carleton, in Large Part, Believed to Have Been Wiped Out by the Recent Disaster.

Murray Carleton, whose subsidiaries he directed the fraudulent padding of books and the criminal transfer of funds to obtain credit for the Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Co., once saved this company from ruin.

In 1913 the Ferguson-McKinney company, then as now at the northwest corner of Twelfth and Washington avenue, felt the breath of creditors on its neck. One of the creditors was the Carleton Dry Goods Co., across the street, at the northeast corner of Twelfth and Washington.

Neither the company nor its creditors wished to incur publicity by instituting receivership or bankruptcy proceedings. The matter was left to the judgment of Murray Carleton, a dominating factor in financial circles. He solved the problem by organizing the Carleton-Ferguson Co., a holding company for the Ferguson-McKinney and the Carleton companies, of which he is chairman.

One Stockholder Sued. Some of the stockholders objected, but in vain. Suit to enjoin the consolidation was filed in Federal court here by Eneas J. McCurdy of Pawhuska, Ok., a stockholder and former director of Ferguson-McKinney. He also asked for an accounting and recovery and made sensational charges of mismanagement. He asserted mismanagement by Forrest Ferguson, president, and others, was such that banks refused to accept the company's stock as collateral.

Three years later, in 1916, the Ferguson-McKinney company was again confronted with financial stress, and decided the lesser of the evils would be to dispose of its four factories in St. Louis.

Mr. Ferguson explained then that the company had decided to retire from manufacturing in order to concentrate on the handling of general merchandise, converting and commission. Since 1916 the company has relied on outside "job" manufacturing goods which it sold.

The four factories were sold for a reported consideration of about $300,000 to the Elder Manufacturing Co. organized for that purpose by George S. Elder and associates. Its offices and display rooms are on Washington avenue, immediately west of the Ferguson-McKinney quarters.

Carleton Firm Being Liquidated. Carleton also has been liquidated by the Carleton Dry Goods Co. Finally this spring, voluntary liquidation of the company was decided upon, and the company's stock of dry goods was sold to the Ely & Walker Dry Goods Co. Holders of $400,000 Carleton common stock will receive about $9 cents on the dollar. Ferguson-McKinney stockholders will receive nothing. There is outstanding $1,000,000 of preferred stock, widely held, and $1,500,000 common, owned by the Carleton-Ferguson company.

Carleton's Fortune Wiped Out. Murray Carleton's fortune, based on his holdings in the Carleton and Ferguson-McKinney enterprises, has been in a large part wiped out by the recent disaster. His remaining assets, outside the business, are understood to be in considerable part pledged as security for loans.

Carleton's known assets at present are:

Two hundred shares of stock of the Boatmen's Bank, of which he is a vice president and director, listed at $152 a share, $30,400.

One thousand shares of stock of the Houston Oil Co., of which he is a vice president and director, quoted at $70 a share, $70,000.

A vacant lot on Lindell boulevard, between Skinner road and River Des Peres, assessed at $14,583.

His residence at 4515 Lindell boulevard, assessed in his wife's name at $42,000, and personal property at the residence, assessed at $2250, making the assessment on house and contents $44,250.

Dry Goods Stocks Total Loss. His holdings of stock of the Carleton Dry Goods Co. and the Carleton-Ferguson Co., holding corporation for the former company and Ferguson-McKinney. The extent of his holdings in the Carleton and Ferguson-McKinney corporations is not known accurately.

The stock of Ferguson-McKinney held by him and by Carleton-Ferguson has been rendered valueless. Carleton last year paid a Federal income tax of $455.67, on an income the amount of which is not shown by the public record, but which is classified among incomes exceeding $25,000. He paid about $1475 city and state taxes on his residence and contents.

Carleton Directed Concern From Hospital

time during the year, without inquiry. Last Statement of Company. The last such statement, the company made was on Feb. 24, 1925. It showed that the company had a surplus of $301,000 and $300,000 additional "reserves" against any possible contingency that may arise. Of course, it stands revealed now that the company not only had no surplus, but that it was bankrupt, that the $2,500,000 stock issue had no value. If the statement had revealed its true condition, no bank would have lent the company a penny. But the statement bore the signature of Murray Carleton, and for 25 years Murray Carleton had been able to walk into any bank and get money for the asking.

First, it was made to appear that the year before the company had made a profit. To this, it is asserted that the statement was false. It asserted that it had sold goods to the Carleton Dry Goods Co. totaling $585,525. The Carleton company had not paid for the goods, it was shown. Accordingly that statement was entered as a "bill receivable." The company had sold no goods to the Carleton company.

Details of the Padding. That was the first padding of profits. Then it padded the inventory of the goods it had on hand by more than $500,000. The auditors noted in their report that they had only appraised the inventory submitted by the company. They had not checked to see whether the goods actually were on hand.

That was the second padding of profits. Then on Sept. 11, 1924, there was a check of the money from the Carleton company, across the street, at 1143 Washington avenue, that before it came time for the credit statement to banks, reached a total of $1,151,000. And in the statement was entered as a charge of that sum as a debt of the Ferguson-McKinney company.

The assets were padded and the liabilities pared. Besides, Forrest Ferguson, president of the company, owed it $115,000 which he had borrowed without security, but the sum was shown on the books and in the statement as due from customers for goods sent to them.

Irony of Situation to Bankers. This is the false showing that was built up for Murray Carleton to mail to the banks so that the banks would lend large sums.

The irony of the situation that the bankers win is that the Ferguson-McKinney company, once its line of credit was established through the falsified statement, used its first loans to send back to the Carleton Dry Goods Co. the $1,151,000 that had moved across the street to play a fraud on the banks.

Then, although it had paid out the $1,151,000, the company, "under the instructions by Murray Carleton and Forrest Ferguson," carried cash slips, which were merely "I O U's" for the sum of its cash drawer and carried the sum in its trial balance as "cash on hand."

$1,386,000 in "Cash Tickets." Besides, the bankers opened the books of the company, they found $1,386,000 of these "I O U's" and that sum carried in trial balance as "cash on hand." Besides there were "I O U's" for $188,000, money loaned to Forrest Ferguson without security, and this appeared also as "cash on hand."

It is now feared that the sum which the receiver will be able to recover from Forrest Ferguson will be much less than the sum of his "cash tickets"—$1,574,000—although Ferguson has turned over what he says is his "last dollar."

Thus far did the bankers reveal the fraudulence of the company. It appears the reason for the "kiting" over a period of three or four years was to keep the Carleton-Ferguson company from being liquidated.

Carleton's attempt to recoup losses—and finishes with its indictment of Murray Carleton.

"Our committee has been possively assured by Mr. Malcock, the cashier, and Mr. Barget, the assistant, Mr. Forrest Ferguson, the president of Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Company, and Mr. Stubbs, assistant secretary of Carleton Dry Goods Co., that all of these exchanges of funds between the Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Co. and the Carleton Dry Goods Co. and the entries on the books were made under the direct instructions of Mr. Murray Carleton, and with the knowledge of Mr. Forrest Ferguson."

Neither Morton Jourdan, attorney for Carleton, nor former Judge Henry S. Priest, attorney for Ferguson, would comment today upon the bankers' charges. Priest has instructed Ferguson not to talk.

Lawyer's Statement Said to Have Precipitated Bankers' Report. It is understood that Judge Priest's defense of his clients, Forrest Ferguson and the Ferguson-McKinney Co., given to the press Tuesday night, precipitated yesterday's statement by banker creditors charging Ferguson with "full knowledge" of the frauds in the Ferguson-McKinney Co.

Judge Priest had asserted that the Ferguson-McKinney, the Carleton Dry Goods Co., and the Carleton-Ferguson Co. "all have good will in the commercial world that is of an extraordinary character and has been preserved in cooler and less agitated heads had taken charge of the situation and through the appointment of a committee had undertaken to continue in business and recover in profitable years that which had been lost in leaner years." He "regretted that a less sensational course had not been pursued by the creditors" and asserted that "we can assure the business and recovery in profitable years that which had been lost in leaner years."

Also he asserted the assets were intact so far as use of them was concerned, but that the Ferguson-McKinney Co. in its liquidation statement, had valued its good will at $398,000.

In the concluding paragraph of its statement, apparently a direct reply to Judge Priest, the Bankers' Committee said:

"Our committee has carefully investigated the affairs of the Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Co. with a desire only to protect all interests. The statement made by the committee disclosed a condition of affairs which in our judgment made reorganization impossible and bankruptcy inevitable."

Loan of First National Bank to Ferguson-McKinney $100,000. Richard S. Hawes, president of the First National Bank, said today that the amount loaned by the First National to Ferguson-McKinney was not $150,000, as has been stated, but $100,000.

Boatmen's Bank Likely to Drop Carleton From Directorate. If charges of Murray Carleton's frauds in the Ferguson-McKinney Manufacturing Co., of which he was treasurer, are substantiated, stockholders of Boatmen's Bank, of which Carleton has been a director for about 30 years, will consider the advisability of dropping Carleton's resignation, at the annual meeting in January.

This statement was made today by Julius W. Reinholdt, vice president and cashier of the bank and his acting head during the serious illness of President Edwards, who died last week. Reinholdt said that the other directors, in discussing the charges against Carleton, had taken into consideration the seriousness of Carleton's present illness. They concluded they could hardly drop Carleton's resignation, at his term will expire Dec. 31. A number of years ago Carleton was made honorary vice president of Boatmen's Bank.

Responding to Fascist Secretary Farinacci's suggestion to give thanks for the Premier's escape a multitude of Romans gathered in Colonna Square last evening where they roared their confirmed faith in Mussolini. Among them were the ambassadors of France, Great Britain and Chile and the ministers of Switzerland, Yugoslavia and other countries. (The American Ambassador is in Washington.)

Thousands of men and women packed into the squares, under the Premier's window and overflowed into the streets, some of which were black with people for several blocks. It was a screaming singling, gesticulating mob, so dense that the police and Fascist militia in order to control it, had to fire shots into the air.

MAYOR WON'T SAY IF HE WILL OBEY CITY BONDS BODY

His Course Remains Still in Doubt Although His Explanation Satisfies Supervisors.

Mayor Miller, who reiterated before the Citizens' Bond Issue Supervisory Committee yesterday his campaign pledge that advice of the committee should be sought and followed, today, when questioned by a Post-Dispatch reporter, refused to say whether he would disapprove any appropriation of bond issue funds not approved by the committee.

Although the Mayor's statement satisfied the committee yesterday, his attitude still is that he is not bound by the committee's desires. The committee has no standing at law, but it is created as a public check on bond expenditures.

The Mayor appeared before it by invitation, after having challenged its authority by instructing a subordinate to proceed with preparation of an ordinance appropriating $150,000 for fire apparatus, although the committee had refused to approve it till specifications were submitted.

Mayor Miller pointed out to the committee a charter provision that the city could not incur a debt without the approval of the Board of Standardization, and an ordinance providing that fire apparatus cannot be purchased till funds have been appropriated.

No Legal Authority. "The Supervisory Committee has no legal authority whatsoever," the Mayor declared. "Whatever authority it may have is only in the nature of offering advice or suggestions. Such advice and suggestions should be welcomed, and if legally possible should be followed. I do not believe the committee has any legal or moral right to designate the kind of work to be done, or the kind of materials to be purchased, or from whom they shall be purchased. There is a supervisory function, and it would be illegal for this administration to allow them to exercise powers which they are not given by law."

The committee exceeded its powers in the fire apparatus matter, the Mayor asserted. He concluded the statement by saying that he had no intention of interfering with the work of the committee, but that he intended to follow the Charter and ordinances. He agreed to submit specifications to the committee after approval of the ordinance was passed, and before the purchase of supplies, declaring that the Board of Standardization could not draft specifications until appropriations were made.

He did not say, and was not asked, by the committee, what he would do if the committee disapproved specifications then.

Asked by a Post-Dispatch reporter today what he would do in such a case, he reiterated his statement to the committee, and said that in the case of the fire apparatus, he would follow the ordinance on which any reputable manufacturer could bid, probably would be adopted.

Pressed for a statement of his attitude in case of committee disapproval of any sort of supplies, the Mayor said he was "summing things up" and was not going to be any trouble. I don't think I should add anything to my statement before the committee."

Many charges and counter-charges were made about the fire apparatus specifications, but the Mayor told the committee: "I do not believe that any public official was guilty of corruption. I did learn from what I considered a reliable source that a representative of a fire apparatus company had met with some so-called political leaders of St. Louis and had drawn up specifications of his particular fire apparatus, and these specifications, with a few additions and subtractions, were the specifications first sent out. Today the Mayor declined to name the political leaders or to elaborate on this.

Appointment of the Supervisory Committee was considered "excellent scenery to attract the eye of the voter." In the belief of those who campaigned for the bond issue, the Mayor told the committee, saying it was thought such a committee would induce thousands of favorable votes. The Mayor declared that personnel of the committee was subject to change by him. The committee adopted a motion thanking him for his presence.

ADMITTS, OVER FIANCEE'S PROTEST, HE IS NOT WHITE

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—After passing for years as a white man, William E. Jackson, 34 years old, a graduate of Columbia University and for two years a member of its football team, admitted that he was of negro blood when he applied for a marriage license yesterday.

His white fiancée, Miss Helen Burns of Bloomfield, N. J., insisted that she would marry him despite the violent opposition of her parents. She said she had urged Jackson to say he was white when they applied for the license, but he had refused. Jackson said his maternal grandmother was a negro.

AUTENRIETH QUITS AS REPUBLICAN COUNTY CHAIRMAN

Offers Resignation at Meeting Called for the Purpose of Obtaining His Removal.

A meeting was called at Clayton this morning to demand his resignation, but he was seen conferring with R. L. Jacobsmeyer of Kirkwood, a member of the committee, just before the meeting, and he announced his resignation immediately upon calling the meeting to order. The committee voted to accept it, and then unanimously elected Jacobsmeyer, who represents Bonhomme Township, to succeed him as chairman.

Autenrieth, a Lieutenant of the "Boss" Essex machine in St. Louis County, today resigned as chairman of the Republican County Committee, in the face of opposition to his retention of the position by most of the committee members.

Ex-Chorus Girl Wins Grand Opera Contract

Mary Lewis, Who Ran Away From Arkansas Home at 18 to Join Show Troupe, Signs With Metropolitan.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Eight years ago a pretty girl of 18 ran away from home in Little Rock, Ark., and joined a tabloid musical comedy company. Yesterday she signed a contract with Gatti-Casazza to appear with the Metropolitan Opera Co.

The girl, Mary Lewis, a former church choir singer, chorus girl, movie extra, Ziegfeld Follies entertainer and light opera singer, now is a lyric soprano with the Metropolitan.

When 5 years old she was adopted by a Methodist minister and his wife. When she was 15 she ran away. She was taken in by another family who encouraged her musical bent. She learned to play the organ, piano and violin as well as sing. She continued with her choir lessons until the day the musical comedy troupe came to town. When the company left the girl went with it.

Stranded on West Coast. The company played through the Southwest, reached California and stranded. Mary then became a bathing beauty in moving picture comedies.

Ambition made her save money. In New York she reasoned, a girl with talent has a better chance. Five years ago she arrived in New York. Her first job was in a Greenwich Village cabaret. A few months later she joined the chorus of the Greenwich Village Follies at $13 a week. Six days later John Murray Anderson heard her sing and signed her as a principal at $100 a week.

The next season Miss Lewis became a member of the "Ziegfeld Follies." For two years she sang and danced.

One night Otto H. Kahn heard her. He arranged an audition before Gatti-Casazza, who immediately offered her a contract.

Wanted to Learn More. "No, I have a great deal to learn," said Miss Lewis. "I must continue to study and then when I am a tegrity of the constitution, we would have precedent in the Civil War for such action. We would be doing only what Washington and Lincoln did under similar circumstances."

He said he personally did not advocate such a method.

"We in America are between opposing theories," he continued. "First, there is the theory of individualism that in its extreme form would lead to anarchy. Second, the other theory magnifies society at the expense of the individual and leads to socialism in various forms. The true American theory of government is a golden mean between these two extremes. We try to provide for the full exercise and development of the individual without over-restraint. On the other hand we try to preserve society from exploitation by greed, from the lust of cupidity, and from disintegration by vice and crime. On this principle we have constantly said that the rights of the individual end where the rights of society begin."

The founder of the Antisaloona League, Howard Hyde Russell, indicated the widow of Dr. Purley A. Baker, his general superintendent of the league, to be the convention in an impressive memorial. The throng in the auditorium of the Chicago Temple rose in silent homage.

The Rev. M. P. Borah of Chicago read the list of prohibition agents "killed in action in the war on rum" and termed them defenders of the Constitution like those American flag.

At a noon luncheon many business men joined in an old-fashioned testimonial to prohibition.

TARIFF CHANGES PROPOSED

Lenroot Would Make Flexible Duties More Applicable to Needs.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A change in the basic principle of the flexible tariff, so that the President may move more swiftly to raise or lower rates, was proposed here today by Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin.

Speaking before the Tanners' Council of the United States, the Senator said the price at which an imported commodity is laid down at the port of entry in this country should be accepted as the foreign production cost. The tariff rate should be raised or lowered on the basis of the difference between that price less a percentage for profit and brokerage charges and the cost of producing the American article of like character. Under the present system the foreign cost of production must be ascertained before the tariff can be changed.

He said that by Gen. Andrews of the prohibition enforcement department in his great declaration that he will not permit politics to plunder his program. We must co-operate with and support every officer who is faithfully doing his duty."

more finished product, I will accept."

Two years ago in Europe she made her operatic debut as Marguerite in "Faust" at the Volkoper in Vienna, and a few days ago Miss Lewis appeared before Casazza for another audition. This time she accepted his contract.

Recently Casazza engaged Marion Taylor, 17, of Kansas City, who is preparing for her debut.

the number of illicit sellers, in fact, in some places it has increased.

Imitation of Saloon. "There seems to be no halfway ground. While great care was taken in drafting a bill for the modification legislation to forestall the return of the old saloon, their saloons were not so profitable that it was freely predicted great numbers would refuse to apply for a renewal of their permits, unless the Government would assure them that beer of much stronger alcoholic content than 44 would be permitted."

The popular will which compelled the remarkably rapid ratification of the Eighteenth Amendment is possibly less clear-spoken today, but it is stronger than ever. The prohibition laws are more generally observed today by the American people than many other laws. No other law faces such organized resistance. Observance would be more general if it were not for the fact that well-financed campaigns of misrepresentation. Since prohibition exempts no class and was imposed by the people themselves, it is neither tyrannical nor sumptuary. Prohibition is the ultimate mode of dealing with the liquor traffic.

Assault of Wets. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloona League, said last night in a report: "The wets are trying to re-establish the liquor traffic at a cost to Government. They seek first to break down enforcement that prohibition may become a failure. But prohibition is succeeding too well for them."

"Second, they seek to raise the alcoholic content of legalized liquor. Their slogan 'bring back beer' means, as much of the old-time liquor traffic as they can get now and later on all of the liquor traffic they wish or desire."

"More than forty organizations clear through the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. They boast a huge war chest and that they are steadily growing in membership."

"We should stand by Gen. Andrews of the prohibition enforcement department in his great declaration that he will not permit politics to plunder his program. We must co-operate with and support every officer who is faithfully doing his duty."

U. S. NOT TO FORCE DISTRIBUTIONS OF BUSINESS SURPLUS

No Change in Policy Toward Reasonable Accumulation of Reserve Funds by Companies.

FIRMS PLAY FAIR, RECORDS INDICATE

Figures for 1923 Show Corporations Retained Only About 36 Per Cent of Net Incomes.

By DAVID LAWRENCE, A Special Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. — No new regulations and rulings have been made by the Internal Revenue Bureau affecting the distribution of accumulated surpluses of corporations. Rumors that the Treasury has decided to force distributions of dividends, in many cases, have been current for several days, but thus far they can be treated only to the sensitiveness of some individual concerns rather than to any change in policy here.

The Treasury Department is still following the spirit of the existing revenue act—section 220—in determining whether a business is holding too much surplus and is really doing so to evade the payment of surtaxes by individuals.

At present a corporation pays a tax of 12½ per cent on net income and the remainder may be distributed in the form of dividends or held in the business for future use. Should it be distributed to individual shareholders, the latter do not pay a normal tax, but they are subject to surtaxes at the present high rates.

Under Treasury Scrutiny. Thinking that some day the surtax rates would come down—as, indeed, seems very probable now for the new law—some concerns may have accumulated unreasonably large sums in the last two years and may feel it desirable hereafter to distribute such surpluses in the form of dividends.

This belated distribution, however, comes under the scrutiny of the Treasury, which reserves the right to criticize the distribution and to insist it could have been made in previous years, thus subjecting the individual taxpayer to higher rates.

The regulation by which the Treasury is being guided says: "An accumulation of gains and profits is unreasonable if it is not required for the purpose of the business, considering all the circumstances of the case. It is not intended, however, to penalize reasonable accumulations of surplus for the needs of the business. No attempt can be made to enumerate all the ways in which gains and profits of a corporation may be accumulated for the reasonable needs of the business."

Other Considerations. "Distributions made by a corporation shortly after the close of its taxable year shall be taken into consideration in determining the reasonableness of the amount of earnings and profits of the corporation retained by it for the year in question. Undistributed income is properly accumulated if invested in increased inventories or additions to plant reasonably needed by the business."

"It is properly accumulated if retained for working capital required by the business or in accordance with contract obligations placed to the credit of a sinking fund for the purpose of retiring bonds issued by the corporation."

"In the case of a banking institution, the business of which is to receive and loan money, using capital surplus and deposits, undistributed income actually represented by loans, or reasonably retired by future loans, is not accumulated beyond the reasonable needs of the business."

These are made of fine kersey cloth, with the superior tailoring which characterizes all Skolny garments:
brass buttons, sleeve emblem and red flannel lining; sizes 3 to 10.

Royston Jr. Overcoats

Of All-Wool Fabrics

$12.98

The newest Winter robes are featured in heavy wool-lined Coats of the English box style with convertible collars; attractive patterns; sizes 2½ to 10.
(Boys' Own Store—Fourth Floor.)

Two Newly Accepted Vogues for Misses

Afternoon Frocks Of Crepe Elizabeth

$25 to $65

FINE lace and velvet on Crepe Elizabeth contribute a new fancy for afternoon wear that brings verve to the youthful mode. The Frocks are made semi-molded with bodice on full skirt or in two-piece style with tailored lines. Other models are shown in satin, velvet and Jacquard weaves. Sizes 14 to 18 years.

Fur-Trimmed Coats With New Flares

$65 to $195

Animated is the coat silhouette with flares to side, beginning just at the hipline in the new way. Furs, too, gain prominence with pelts designed more elaborately than ever—the pointed shawl collar, the wide fur cuff, the single fur pocket, and deep bands at hem.
Suede finish and pile fabrics. Sizes 14 to 18 years.
(The Misses' Store—Third Floor.)

Mid-Season Satin Hats

$5.00

FEATURED is the trim Satin Hat, popular the year 'round. Small in shape, it shows draped effects and clever brims in adaptable styles. Others in the group are metal-trimmed dance or fabric Hats.

Misses' Sport Hats, $4.95

Felts and velours in the brilliant colors show a diversity of shape that is intriguing to the young miss selecting her first sport Hat.

Felt Sport Hats, $1.95

300 Hats reprised for this selling. Styles for women and misses are included, though favor is given the small close-fitting model.

College-Girl Styles in "Pied Piper" Oxfords

$6.50

THE college girl finds in Pied Pipers the answer to her quest for Oxfords designed with the snap and dash she demands. Women who prefer Oxfords with flat heels are also choosing Pied Pipers for their smartness and comfort.

Illustrated Below Are These Styles—

The Campus—at left, below—a sport Oxford in combination of brown and smoked elk. Blucher style, very smart with square brass eyelets. Sizes 2½ to 7.....$6.50

ford of brown elk, with smart shield tip and effective perforation trimming. Sizes 2½
to 7.....$6.50
(Main Floor.)

Suedine Windbreakers In Vivid Woodsy Colors

$6.75

THE heavy weave and smooth finish of suedine gives these Windbreakers a rich effect. They are the newest thing for campus wear.
Finished with Jacquard-knit collars, fancy pockets, cuffs, and belt.

Newly arrived they are the latest word in an inexpensive portrayal of a popular vogue.
(Sweater Dept.—Third Floor.)

Skirt With Belt Loops For the Tucked-In Sweater

$6.95

THE jaunty thing to do now is to wear one's sweater tucked into the skirt—these new models are made with loops
at waistline to keep the wide leather belt in place.

Shown with kick-pleat or wrap effect in flannel of high colors or homestead weave.
Also pleated models in vivid plaids as well as plain flannels are included.
(Skirt Dept.—Third Floor.)

Russian Antique Jewelry Richly Jewel Studded

69c to $15

ANOTHER shipment brings many exquisite pieces in this very popular type of Jewelry. Reproductions of old jewels from Russia are shown in flexible bracelets, earrings, bar pins, rings, cuff pins, com-pacts and others.

Beautiful for gifts are these pieces—the wide range of prices afford satisfactory selections.
(Jewelry Dept.—Main Floor.)

Silk Lingerie In a Variety of Styles

SIX-UNION FEDERATION PLANNED IN ENGLAND

Executive Committees Adopt Constitution, but It Must Be Approval by Members.

Special Cable to Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Co. (New York World
and Post-Dispatch.)

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The executive committees of six great trades unions representing 4,000,000 men have adopted the constitution of a working alliance.

The unions concerned are the Miners Federation, the National Union of Railway Men, the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, the Electrical Trade Union, the Transport and General Workers Union, and the Amalgamated Engineering Union.

The purpose of the alliance, as laid down in the constitution adopted yesterday are to defend hours of labor and wage standards, to promote or defend any vital principle, and to take such steps for mutual co-operation on economic and industrial matters as may be decided on.

It is in the third point that the sting lies, for it envisages the possibility of a joint strike of all six unions should any one of them be involved in a dispute. Such a strike would be tantamount to a general strike, for it would affect the vital social services of the country, the up food and fuel supplies, close electric light power plants, and throw men in many other unions out of work.

The meeting decided the constitution must be ratified by the individual unions concerned. This provision may wreck the alliance, as several amendments proposed by the National Union of Railway Men were rejected yesterday and the Executive Committee of that union may not recommend adoption.

TWO DETROIT GIRLS, WHO LEFT HOMES, HELD HERE

Desire to See the World Vanishes
When Their $60 Fund Becomes Exhausted.

Two girls, chums, 14 and 16
years old, who left their homes, near Detroit, Mich., with $60 capital to see the world, were held in the House of Detention today, their funds exhausted and their spirit of adventure likewise.

The girls—Mildred Jaquish, 14, and Mildred Greenwald, 16—told policewomen they assumed the names of Loretta and Catherine La Chance, sisters, when they left their homes last Saturday. They said they motored to Toledo with two young men they chanced to meet and came to St. Louis by train.
They obtained a room at a hotel near Union Station, and Monday
one of the girls became acquainted with a girl cashier at a nearby penny arcade. The new acquaintance insisted upon taking the girl to her rooming house, where the landlady called the police.

Henry E. Huntington III.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—
Physicians expressed hope today for the recovery of Henry E. Huntington, 75 years old, of San Gabriel, Cal., millionaire railroad magnate, and nationally known art critic and book collector. He was operated upon by Dr. John B.
Deaver, at the Lankenau Hospital,
Oct. 28, after the special train which bore him, his daughter and two physicians, made the journey between this city and Los Angeles in record-breaking time. Huntington was stricken on Oct. 24 and his illness was kept secret. A dangerous and unusual operation
here was advised.

To Conduct Services in Chicago.
The Rev. Albert Linder, pastor of Ebenezer Baptist Church, Utah street and Illinois avenue, will leave Sunday for Chicago where he will conduct Evangelistic services at Irving Park Church for two weeks.
The Rev. Howard Billman of the Church Federation will occupy his pulpit during his absence.

To Speak on Capital Punishment.
Ernest Oakley, former Prosecuting Attorney, will speak before the Liberal Club of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, at 8 o'clock Monday evening. His subject will be "Capital Punishment." The public is invited.

trouble
and want a remedy
whose value has been proved by many years of successful use—if you want a treatment
that thousands of doctors and druggists prescribe because they know its beneficial results—you will find it in

HOTEL GUESTS FORCED TO FLEE IN FIRE

Blaze in Drug Store at 305 North Jefferson Avenue Causes Loss of $5000.

Fire in the basement of the Page Drug Co., 305 North Jefferson avenue, at 6 a. m. today, forced 105 guests of the Olive Hotel, which occupies the upper floors of the building in which the drug store is located, to leave their rooms.

A guest of the hotel informed the clerk, John Flester, that smoke was pouring through the hallways and Flester, upon investigation, discovered the fire. After turning in an alarm he and bellboys notified the guests, instructing them to dress and leave the hotel.

W. E. Page of 4200 Castleman avenue, proprietor of the drug store, estimated the damage at $5000, mostly by water. The fire, which was of undetermined origin, was confined to the basement of the drug store, but smoke filled the building. Small damage was done to the Laclede Trust Co., owner of the building and occupant of the corner at Jefferson avenue and Olive street.

Traffic on the Olive and Jefferson car lines was delayed.

REPUTED AUTO THIEF LEADER CONVICTED IN U. S. COURT

Thomas Kehoe Found Guilty of Transporting Stolen Car to East St. Louis.

A jury in Federal Judge Paris' court yesterday found Thomas Kehoe, reputed leader of an automobile theft ring, guilty of violating the Dyer act by transporting a Ford coupe, stolen here, to East St. Louis. Sentence was deferred.

Kehoe was jointly charged with Arden Caudle of East St. Louis, with the theft of three automobiles. Judge Paris instructed the jury to find Caudle not guilty on all three counts and Kehoe not guilty on two.

Testimony was that an automobile, stolen in July, 1934, was sold by Kehoe to a resident of East St. Louis, with Caudle acting as the salesman.

The owner testified there was a discrepancy in the motor number and that it was his machine. Because of this testimony, Thomas Kehoe, attorney for Kehoe, filed a demurrer, alleging that the car transported was not a complete automobile. In overruling the demurrer, Judge Paris described Kehoe's argument as "artistic and ingenious," but said that if Kehoe's contention were correct the law would be nullified, to the encouragement of automobile thieves.

FRONT-ENTRANCE SYSTEM
ON ALL U. S. R. LINES NOV. 15

Change Is Expected by Company to Eliminate Confusion in Loading.

"Move back, please," will replace the once familiar "Move forward, please," when the change of all city street cars to the front-entrance system becomes effective Nov. 15.

The new form of exhortation is now in use by conductors on several lines, where the front-entrance plan has been adopted, and where passengers show a tendency to stay as near as possible to the entrance. Exit will be by the rear door only. The fare is paid just before the exit.

The United Railways Co., in announcing the uniform plan for all city lines, said it would tend to simplify the problem of re-loading and to eliminate confusion which has been caused by the use of the front-entrance plan on some lines and the rear entrance on others. The new rule will not affect the lines in St. Louis County.

UMPIRE JOSEPH O'BRIEN DIES
Major and Minor League Arbitrator Quits Diamond Sept. 20.

By the Associated Press.
TROY, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Joseph O'Brien, 50 years old, for 10 years an umpire in the major and minor leagues, died last night at his home in North Troy.

For five years Mr. O'Brien was an umpire in the American Association. Then followed four years in the International League. Early this season he joined the Western League, but ill health forced him to quit the diamond on Sept. 20 after he had joined the Southern League. He is survived by a widow and two daughters.

BOY, 7, SHOOTS SISTER, 5

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 6.—Because his 5-year-old sister, Mary, called him a "monkey," Peter Sarfano, 7, shot and seriously wounded the child, he told police detectives yesterday.

"I was awfully mad and I meant to shoot her but I was sorry as soon as I had done it," the boy told police. The girl was shot with a revolver obtained from a locked bureau drawer while the mother of the children was at a neighboring store. The boy replaced the revolver and relocked the drawer after the shooting.

Rejected, Shoots Girl and Himself.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—James Traynor, 29 years old, of Louisville, Ky., fired three bullets into the body of Mrs. Leona Yoshit, 25, of Shively, Ky., after a quarrel in his room here last night, then turned the pistol on himself. Both are expected to die. Traynor said he had urged the girl to marry him after a romance in Kentucky and that she refused.

It is Bond's creed to tailor the finest clothing that human intelligence and experience can produce—in our own factories—and other factories controlled by us—to sell these garments through our own outlet stores at the smallest margin of net profit over the actual cost (usually not over 75c per garment)—a price that is lower by far—(material, tailoring and style considered)—than any clothes in America today! We know whereof we speak and stand ready to prove this fact!

That's why — when we tell you that these overcoats out-value even our own previous efforts—it really means something to thousands of Bond's steady patrons.

That's why 75,000 overcoats — cut from wools that usually enter into the making of $50 coats (with genuine Skinner's guaranteed satin lining) will be absorbed by Bond's steady patrons in record time. They know value.

UNION MUSICIANS QUIT MARKET CELEBRATION

Oppose Playing by Firemen's and Policemen's Bands at Dedication.

The three-day dedication of the new $1,000,000 Union Market, which began yesterday, may be shortened a day, eliminating Saturday, as the result of the action of the Musicians' Mutual Benefit Association, the Musicians' Union, in cancelling a contract to furnish bands on the closing day tomorrow.

In calling off their participation in the dedication, a committee of the union musicians, headed by Stephen H. Butler, business agent, announced its refusal to perform had been placed in unfair competition with outside musical organizations—in this instance, the Firemen's Band, which played at the opening yesterday and the Police Band, which contributed its services today.

"Originally the union contracted with the Downtown Improvement Association to furnish a band of 20 pieces for a one-day dedication," said Butler, in giving the union's version of the controversy. "Then the program was lengthened to cover three days, and the city bands were engaged for the two additional days."

Would Create Precedent. "We opposed this step and countered with an offer to pay our musicians out of our treasury for one of the two extra days. If the association would pay for the other day, amounting to $210. They wouldn't do it and we called off the contract."

"Our position is that these men are paid salaries to do fire and police duty and not compete with musicians who are earning their livelihood in the profession. Our committee asked Mr. Meletto" (W. A. Meletto, president of the association sponsoring the dedication), "why he should not furnish free fish as well as free music on these days. We took a firm stand because this sets a precedent. As the other public buildings are completed under the bond issue, there will be similar dedications."

On the other hand, Meletto characterized the union's action as "a raw deal," based on a "misapprehension" of the nature and purposes of the dedication.

May Abandon Program.

"In the first place, the market does not belong to the merchants," he said. "It belongs to all the people. It is a public building, and it is perfectly proper for the city hands to join in the dedication of a public building. The merchants chipped down in their pockets to raise a fund to hire the union musicians for the one day. Personally, I feel that is as far as we can go. If the union doesn't furnish us a band tomorrow, we certainly will not hire a nonunion band. The program will be called off."

The Union Committee also directed a protest to Mayor Miller, who consulted City Counselor Sent and Director of Public Safety Brod, and replied to the union there was nothing illegal or in violation of the charter in the participation of the Firemen's Band.

WOULD PAY ITALIAN WAR DEBT

Detroit Druggist Offers $10 a Month If Compatriots Will Help.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 6.—Gastano Napolitano, operating a chain of drug stores here, has proposed that the Italians in America "chip in" and pay the Italian war debt to the United States. He believes those who benefited by the war and not those who suffered should pay the obligation.

In a letter on his business stationery, headed "Viva L'Italia!" and addressed to "Italian-Americans," he says: "Come in, Italians! Let us show Americans what we can do."

In this communication, which he dispatched not only to his compatriots in the United States, but to President Coolidge, Premier Mussolini and other high-ranking officials in America and Canada, Napolitano called himself the first subscriber to the idea with a contribution of $100 a month.

EX-PAGE BUYS 'CHANGE SEAT

Henry A. Anderson Started at 16 in 1913; Paid $135,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Ten years ago Henry A. Anderson, then 16 and ambitious to become a broker, entered the New York Stock Exchange as a page. He realized his ambition yesterday when he bought the seat of Andrew Morrison for $135,000.

Anderson began as a page on the trading floor April 12, 1915. He learned rapidly and gained promotion quickly, but resigned June 2, 1917, to become telephone clerk for Jaqueline & Decoppett, odd-job brokers, which position he will retain until elected to stock exchange membership.

3 KILLED WHEN PLANE FALLS

By the Associated Press. HONOLULU, Nov. 6.—Three enlisted men, Private Porter, Private Cracken and Private Smith, were killed yesterday when an airplane crashed in a cane field. The names and addresses of the men killed: Technical Sergeant Aaron Porter, Honolulu, Ok.; Staff Sergeant Henry McCracken, Wilmington, Del.; Private Fred Smith, Graham, Va.

The airplane spun at an elevation of 1000 feet and nose-dived into a group of trees on the peninsula opposite the naval hospital at Pearl Harbor.

PRESIDENTIAL BOOMER REBUKED BY DAWES

Not a Candidate for Any Office, Never Will Be, Says Vice President.

By the Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 6.—When introduced at a banquet in his honor as "on his way to the presidency," Vice President Dawes jumped to his feet last night and condemned his introducer's comparison with the statement that "I am not and never will be a candidate for any office."

"Such statements," he said, "are the sort some people are using to beat my campaign for a change in Senate rules."

"I was an accident," the Vice President said. "I'm not a candidate for any office. The Senate doesn't dare bury this issue. I've got three and a half more years in office—that's one reason."

"The Senate will change its rules or the people will change the membership of the Senate."

CHICKEN DESPITE REPRIEVE

Condemned Negro's Plea for Dinner Granted by Jailor.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Campbell McCarthy, negro, who was to have been hanged this morning, was not entirely filled with happiness when he received word of an eleventh-hour stay of execution until next month, while his case is taken to the Supreme Court.

"That's mighty fine," he smiled when the news reached him. Then, his face sobering, he added: "But, Captain, I've got just one favor to ask. I want to stay here in the death cell until I get the chicken dinner they bring to all condemned men."

His plea was granted and in the death cell of the Cook County Jail McCarthy last night ate what was to have been his last meal—chicken with all the trimmings.

TINNEY DIVORCE SUIT BEGUN

Comedian Will Fight Wife's Claim for $750 Monthly Alimony.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The divorce suit of Mrs. Frank Tinney, wife of the former Broadway comedian, was begun yesterday before Supreme Court Justice Riegman in Muncie. Counsel for Tinney announced he would contest the suit, so far as custody of his son, Frank, 7 years old, was concerned, but that the comedian would fight the claim for $750 monthly alimony.

One of the witnesses testified that Tinney was living in a hotel at New Castle-on-Tyne, England, with a tall blonde known as "Bubbles." The witness testified Tinney and "Bubbles" were registered as husband and wife.

EXPECT WORLD FINANCE PACT

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, Nov. 6.—A world pact which will eventually ensure Wall Street an unopposed hegemony in the world's money markets, is expected by German financial circles to result from conferences now proceeding in New York between American and English financiers and Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, head of the Reichsbank.

Dr. Schacht's homecoming is already the subject of lively speculation in these circles, which predict that he will return laden down with important information, the results of which will soon assert themselves in the realm of international financial relations.

St. Louis Fifth in Postal Receipts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—St. Louis ranked fifth among the cities in postal receipts for October with a total of $1,165,255. This, according to a statement by the postoffice department today, was an increase of 1.62 per cent over October, 1935. Fifty selected cities had receipts of $12,459,042 or 11.67 per cent more than for the same month last year.

St. Louis City, with receipts of $1,047,452, entered the million dollar a month class for the first time and took rank next to St. Louis.

Philippine Independence Measure.

MANILA, Nov. 6.—The Senate today passed by a unanimous vote the plebiscite bill, under which Philippine Islanders would be permitted to vote an expression of the question of various phases of proposed independence. The bill now goes to the House.

No Higher!
No Lower!

Why Pay More?

Come in and see the greatest values in men's clothes ever shown in St. Louis. This new Millards store means that every time you buy a suit or overcoat at Millards you'll save at least $15. There isn't a $22.50 garment in our stock.
It's only our price that is $22.50. You can't duplicate any one of these Suits or Overcoats anywhere else unless you pay at least $15 more than our price. We want you men who think you must pay $37.50 or more to get good clothes to come in and make us prove what we say.

Figure it out yourself. If we had to pay for a high rent, for high salaried buyers, floor walkers, office force, delivery expenses and for losses on charged sales, we would have to tack on at least $15 extra to the cost of our clothing, just as other stores do, and you would have to pay us at least $37.50 for the very clothes we are selling for $22.50—and you wouldn't get a thing for the money.

Those expenses are "selling" costs. They merely increase your cost. But we haven't any of those expenses and we don't tack on a cent.
We take off at least $15—and you save that money every time you pay $22.50 at Millards.

So come and see the thousands of finely tailored garments—fresh and new from our own tailoring shops. See the single-breasted Suits with the double-breasted vests. See the Overcoats, single and double breasted, box and tube models. See the big 46-inch Ulsters, all $22.50.
See the Suits, single and double breasted, in wide wales, worsteds, chevots, in the new bronze tans—and the blue serges, all $22.50.
And when you come in no one here will coax you to pay $25, $35, $45 or more. You can't pay more than $22.50 here.

Calm Restored in Balkans.

GENEVA, Nov. 6.—A telegram received by the League of Nations from the Powers' military attaches sent to investigate the situation on the Graco-Bulgar border, says normal life has been resumed on both sides of the frontier. Greek troops are leaving for Saloniki. Bulgarian troops are on their way to their garrisons, except two small detachments, which remain to restore confidence among the population.

Increase Your Weight in Thirty Days.

Ask Wolff-Wilson, Walgreen Drug Co., successors to Judge & Dolph Drug Stores, Enderle Drug Co., Johnson Bros. Drug Co., or any drug store for a box of Wolff's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. They cost but little, are sugar coated and as pleasant to taste as candy.

Slender men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good healthy solid flesh and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on 5 pounds or more in 30 days. As a matter of fact, your druggist is authorized to return your money if you don't gain 5 pounds in 30 days.

Use this medicine 15 pounds in six weeks.

So save and ask for Wolff's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—60 Tablets—60 cents.

NEW ADMINISTRATIVE HEAD FOR DRY LAW

James E. Jones of Ohio Has Title of Director of Prohibition.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—James E. Jones of Ohio, who has served as assistant prohibition commissioner throughout Roy A. Haynes' tenure as commissioner, has been named second in command to Assistant Secretary Andrews of the new prohibition enforcement machinery.

With the title of director of prohibition Jones had been serving for several days as administrative officer of the new organization before the fact of his elevation to the post of chief aid to Andrews came to light through letters bearing his signature as director.

No formal announcement of the promotion has been made at the Treasury, but it was confirmed there on inquiry last night.

While the 24 regional administrative offices functioning under the new organization will continue to be directly accountable to Andrews, Jones will have actual charge of administrative matters at prohibition headquarters.

Under the decentralized responsibility of the new machine, the new director will not have the broad powers formerly vested in Haynes. Haynes will continue as commissioner to assist in the organization work, but his resignation is expected soon in view of his intention to enter the gubernatorial race in Ohio next year. His actual authority apparently is ended.

Jones, after a large part in building up the new organization, assumes a function in its land enforcement operations that corresponds to that of Rear Admiral Billard, commandant of the coast guard, in directing activities against rum runners at sea.

LAWYERS CALL MRS. STILLMAN Conference Sought on Her Divorce Proceeding.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Anne

U. Stillman against James A. Stillman has caused Mrs. Stillman to be summoned to New York from her camp at Grand Anse, Quebec, by her counsel, Isaac N. Mills and J. Gordon Flannery. There will be a final conference with a view to the wind-up of the divorce proceeding.

Although not confirmed, it was said yesterday there might be some delay in the expected request to the Court by Mrs. Stillman's lawyers for appointment of a referee. Should Mrs. Stillman agree to come here, it would take nearly a week to make the journey. Although three days have passed since its exclusive publication in the New York World and the Post-Dispatch, there has been no denial by Stillman's lawyers of Mrs. Stillman's statement that her husband has agreed not to contest her suit.

COOLIDGE'S ATTITUDE TOWARD DRY ENFORCEMENT CRITICISED

Prohibition Leaders Also Assail Policies of Mellon, Smith and Walker.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Twenty leaders of the dry forces meeting here yesterday expressed in turn their disapproval of the attitude on prohibition shown by President Coolidge, Secretary Mellon, Gov. Coudrier, New York Mayor-elect James J. Walker of New York and the Republican leaders in the State.

Oliver Stewart, president of the Flying Squadron, who presided, admonished the speakers to "speak from the heart."

Dr. E. Dinwiddie, superintendent of the National Temperance Bureau in Washington, said that President Coolidge could have complete enforcement of prohibition simply by demanding it.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the Board of Temperance of the Methodist Episcopal Church, said: "We must recognize from the start that a liquor enforcement in the country. We are now at a crisis. There is a scheme on foot to open hundreds of breweries to manufacture real beer."

"No man who does not believe that alcohol is a poison is fit to be in charge of liquor enforcement. Mr. Mellon thinks a man is a fool who believes alcohol is a poison. Such a man won't enforce prohibition."

"I expect him to come out before election and say that prohibition cannot be enforced."

Mrs. Bella Boole, of New York, a worker in the W. C. T. U., said: "Everyone knows Senator Walker is a leader of the liquor interests."

The conference voted to ban reporters from the afternoon session when Lincoln Andrews, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, addressed them.

MOTHER OF TWO SCHOOL BOYS FOUND INTOXICATED IN HOME

Police Raid House in Neighborhood Where Youths Say They Bought Liquor for Parent.

Police, at the request of the Board of Education, yesterday raided the home of Mrs. Celia Holafus, 1311 Blair avenue, to make inquiry as to her two children—John, 11 years old, and Russell, 9. They reported finding the mother on the floor in a stupor, and sent her to the city hospital, where she was pronounced suffering from alcoholism.

The two children were traced to the home of relatives at 2317 North Ninth street and taken to the Carr Street Station, where they were questioned by Capt. Nally. The boys related that for several weeks they have been purchasing whisky from a man in the neighborhood for their mother, the elder boy saying he had bought about 25 glasses at 39 cents a pint, and the younger about half that quantity.

Capt. Nally then took the boys before Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Fank, who issued a search warrant for the home of Joseph Mercurio, 1315 Blair avenue. The police reported finding 75 bottles of home brew, two bottles of moonshine whisky, two gallons of wine and 150 gallons of wine in process of fermentation. They arrested Mercurio, who gave bond, and also his daughter, Rose, 11, who was held for the juvenile court authorities. Warrants charging possession of liquor and also contributing to the delinquency of the two boys will be applied for against Mercurio.

Advertiser Church is Gaining.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Membership in churches of the Seventh Day Adventist denomination totaled 228,437 for the current year, an increase since 1924 of 16,789. It was shown today in the sixty-second annual report of the organization. The report, submitted to the general conference of the church by H. E. Rogers, its statistical secretary, said the Adventists now were operating in 119 countries, employing 14,405 evangelists and institutional workers, who are conducting their work in 224 languages.

TESTIFIES WIFE CALLED HIM "COMMON DUTCHMAN"

Carl K. Kruttsch, Foundry Executive, Gives Deposition in Reply to Maintenance Suit.

His wife's nicknames for him, "common Dutchman" and "common foundryman" were too much, Carl K. Kruttsch, works manager of the Southern Manganese Steel Co., testified in depositions filed in the separate maintenance suit of Mrs. May G. Kruttsch, to be heard next week in Circuit Judge McElhinney's court at Clayton.

"Was that what made you associate with other women?" asked her attorney, E. McDonald Stevens, in whose office the depositions were taken.

"Why, she told me—always has—that if I didn't like her, to get others," was the reply. However, he added, his friendship with them was purely platonic. Two women he named agreed, in their depositions, to that description of their relations.

Mrs. Kruttsch deposed that once her husband said he was tired and was leaving home. "Didn't he tell you why?" "He wasn't at home long enough to tell why, and, besides, he wasn't on speaking terms with any of the family," Mrs. Kruttsch going on, to tell that their relations had been strained since she learned that he was "winning and dining" the others.

In her petition she stated that Kruttsch, with $20,000 in stocks and the St. Louis Bank of Commerce and the St. Louis Bank of Commerce and the St. Louis Bank of Commerce, and an annual income of "at least $5000," had failed to support her and their three minor children, two boys and a girl. They were married in September, 1902, and separated Nov. 26, 1924.

SARGASSO SEA EXPLORER ADDRESSES COUNTRY DAY

Miss Ruth Rose, Historian of Beebe Expedition, Tells of Cruise of the Arcturion.

Anecdotes of the Sargasso Sea expedition of the steamer Arcturion—which was described in detail in the news columns upon its return last July—were related yesterday at the Country Day School by Miss Ruth Rose, historian of the expedition.

Dr. William Beebe, its head, did not find the cold Humboldt current coming up from the Antarctic, apparently because it had been disturbed by earthquakes. The "floating meadow" of seaweed, whereon legends of stranded ships and starving crews had been based, was not there. But Dr. Beebe did find specimens of deep sea life new to science. Miss Rose gave the first of her series of illustrated lectures here this week at the Wednesday Club.

AUTO CLUB MEMBERS ASKED TO REPORT TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

Postcards Supplied in Campaign to Help Drivers Who Wish to Obey the Law

Members of the Automobile Club of Missouri who request them are being supplied with postcards on which to report violations of city traffic ordinances to the club, so that violators may be informed by the organization of their infractions of the law.

The idea is to help motorists who wish to obey the law, in calling their attention to unintentional errors, and to furnish data as to violations. Members will report the time and place of violation and the violator's license number.

Club officials believe that 15,000 members will be reporting violations within 60 to 90 days.

WANTED ADVICE ON HOW TO GET INTO HIS SHIRT

Agricultural Department Unable to Find Bulletin Covering Kansan's Problem.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Apparently impressed by the multitude of advice-giving pamphlets issued by the agricultural department, Robert O. Deming of Oswego, Kan., has appealed to the department for information on "how to put on a shirt, eat an apple, peel potatoes, adjust a dog collar, shave, wash a dog and pick a chicken."

Although the department has issued more than 3000 advisory publications it was forced to inform Deming that it could not help him with his shirt and dog collar, but did have a bulletin on how to pick a chicken.

HARRISBURG (ILL.) CONVERTS ASSIST AT REVIVAL HERE

Twenty-three Persons Hit Sawdust Trail at Evangelist Will-

Howard S. Williams, lay evangelist, was assisted in his services last night by a group of Harrisburg (Ill.) citizens, who did personal work among his audience of 3000 persons. Several addressed the meeting, testifying to Williams' work at Harrisburg in the tenor of his previous sermons here.

Twenty-three persons fled down the sawdust aisle of the tabernacle on Delmar boulevard near Hamilton avenue as converts, after the Harrisburg Kiwanis Club quartet finished a program of hymns.

Williams and his party appeared before the Optimist Club today. To night he will preach on "God's Great Newspaper."

Chauncey Olcott Much Improved. ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 6.—The condition of Chauncey Olcott, actor, stricken with heart and kidney trouble here last Friday, showed some improvement today. It was announced that unless a relapse occurs, he will be removed from the hospital here to his home in New York City, possibly tonight.

THREE SENTENCED TO PRISON FOR SALE OF NARCOTICS

Soldier Gets Year Under Mann Act When Arraigned Before
U. S. Judge English.

Seven prison sentences and fines amounting to $2350 were imposed on defendants who pleaded guilty before Federal Judge English in East St. Louis yesterday.

Robert B. Watson of Danville, an enlisted soldier, was sentenced to one year and three months at Leavenworth for violation of the Mann Act. Watson, who was twice married in 1924, married Josephine Johnson of Danville in October last without having been divorced from his second wife.

Three defendants, indicted in the recent session of the grand jury for the sale of narcotics, were sentenced to 18 months each at Leavenworth. They are Charles Saunders, 43, Ed Williams, 40, and Charles Davis, 45, all of East St.
Louis.

Roy A. Schaefer of 401 North First street, East St. Louis, was sentenced to two years at Leavenworth and fined $500 on each of three charges of violating the prohibition law, the sentences to run concurrently.

For transporting a stolen automobile from Indianapolis to Marshall, Ill., Ansel B. Monroe of the former city was given a sentence of a year and a day.

The proprietor of a gasoline filling station at Danville, Ill., O. P.
Stout, was fined $300 and sentenced to 30 days in jail on his plea of guilty to selling a quart of whisky to a prohibition agent. L. Paulson and Sam Peters of East St. Louis were fined $250 and $300 respectively for violating the prohibition law.

Your Established Basis for Knowing Jewelry Values

When you buy fine jewelry you want to know: "Am I getting all the value my money can command?" Our service enables you to answer that question directly and satisfactorily. Simply put the purchase you are contemplating to the test of comparison. For sixty-seven years our policy has been to give the public the facts —to let people know how much value they should get on any article of jewelry they purchase. This is why wise jewelry buyers invariably consult Loftis before making their purchase knowing that here they get the basic facts on value. With QUALITY as the watchword of our own buying and VALUE the guiding principle of our selling to the public, it is little wonder that discriminating buyers everywhere recognize the advantages of dealing with the House of Loftis.

TAOS INDIANS THEME OF STATE CAPITOL ART

Art Colony in New Mexico Commissioned to Paint Murals for Missouri Structure.

By the Associated Press.

TAOS, N. M., Nov. 6.—Of all the aborigines, the Taos Indian appeals to members of the famous Taos artists' colony as having the background best suited to the brush.

The picturesque setting in which the Indian is found and the Indian himself with his statuesque physique are the reasons why the 11 persons—10 men and one woman—who form the colony are here.

Hold to Their Customs.

"The Indians of Old Taos hold to their customs and costumes more tenaciously and remarkably than any others," said Burt Phillips, dean and founder of the colony. "They live in a picturesque environment, which they fit to summer and winter. The lure of the native Spanish life around the village of Taos pueblo and adjoining villages is strong. An endless variety of subjects are here available—the mountain canyons and mesas and, above all, the marvelous coloring, which seems to find its equal nowhere else in the country."

The Taos group is said among the best band of artists to receive a large order for pictures as an organization. Each member was commissioned to paint three murals for the Missouri State Capitol Building. As a result of the commission, the panels of the new Missouri Capitol may be expected to reflect accurately the spirit and methods of the Taos Society of Artists.

One member of the society, John Sharp, now is confining himself entirely to the painting of Taos Indian subjects. The Taosians are a stalwart race, everyone a striking figure, given to standing on house-tops in white robes at sunrise. They have furnished Sharp with an inspiration which now is occupying his entire attention.

Origin of the Colony.

The colony is the outgrowth of a friendship struck up between Phillips and E. L. Blumenschein in the Latin Quarter of Paris during the late '90s.

The pair pioneered into the Taos country shortly before 1900 after an arduous trek overland from Denver. Blumenschein later went to Arizona to paint Pima Indian subjects, but Phillips stayed on and it was his persevering efforts that finally led to the coming of the other 10 artists.

SIX IN ONE FAMILY PERISH WHEN FIRE DESTROYS HOME

Girl, 9, Sole Survivor, Leaps Through Window of New York Bungalow.

BALLSTON SPA, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Six members of one family were burned to death by fire which destroyed a bungalow early today. The sole orphaned survivor is in a critical condition.

The dead: George Kemp, 40 years old; Mrs. George Kemp; Viola Allen, 14; Myrtle Allen, 9; Carol Allen, 10; Marcina Kemp, 11.

The Allens were children of Mrs. Kemp by a previous marriage. The Kemp children were born in Kemp's previous marriage.

Beatrice Kemp, 9, sole survivor of the family, escaped with her clothing in flames. As she leaped through a window she heard a sister crying for help. She summoned neighbors, but they and the firemen found the bungalow a furnace. The nearest hydrant was a quarter of a mile away. The bodies were found huddled in one room. A doctor expressed the belief that Kemp had found a way of escape and had turned back to find the rest of his family when flames cut them off.

75-YEAR-OLD MAN HIT BY AUTO AT STREET CROSSING

Two Pedestrians and Two Persons Riding in Car Injured in Series of Accidents.
Mrs. Bertha Kuhn, 77 years old, of 4902 Labadie avenue, suffered two fractured ribs, back injuries, nervous shock and scalp lacerations, and George Fredericks, 24, a cashier, of 1971 Alfred avenue, suffered internal injuries, the loss of four teeth and a lacerated knee at 3:15 p. m. yesterday, when automobiles in which they were riding collided at Kingshighway and Labadie. Fredericks and Mrs. Kuhn's husband, Ernest, a real estate dealer, drivers of the machines, were arrested.

Joseph Kremm, 40, of 1898 South Tenth street, suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries at 11 p. m. when struck by a machine as he started to board a southbound street car at Jefferson and Scott avenue. The driver of the machine, Dr. Sidney S. Maddox of 2011 Market street, a negro, was arrested. Crossing Page boulevard at Goodfellow avenue at 2 p. m., Samuel Hitchcock, 75, of 5595 Easton avenue, was struck by an automobile driven by Miss Virginia Stratton, 23, of 709 Pershing avenue. Hitchcock was pronounced suffering internal injuries and fractures of both arms and the left leg when taken to city hospital. Miss Stratton was arrested.

PLOTTERS ESCAPE DEATH

Sentences for Attempted Assassination of Soviet Leaders Commuted.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Nov. 6.—Receipts of news from Moscow that the death sentences passed in July on Dr. Karl Kindermann and other Germans convicted of plotting to assassinate soviet leaders had been commuted to prison terms was followed by the announcement yesterday that death sentences against one Russian in Germany and two German associates in the German communist organization also had been commuted.

These men are Alexander Skolniewsky, a Russian, Felix Neumann, and Ernest Poegge. They were sentenced to death in April, after conviction for murder and terroristic acts. It is expected all prisoners in Germany and Russia convicted of charges of this nature will soon be liberated.

GERMANY REBUILDING, CONSUL HERE SAYS

Dr. Georg Ahrens Says Most Precarious Phase of Situation Is Foreign Trade.

Germany is rebuilding from the ground, politically and in a business way. Dr. Georg Ahrens, German Consul in St. Louis, said at the luncheon tendered to him today by the Foreign Trade Bureau of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce.

He said the masses of the German population were near starvation for the 10-year period between the outbreak of the war and the reorganization of the currency. Since the stabilization was accomplished, more food has been consumed.

"The sales of meat may be used as an index of the food consumption of the population," he said. "At the beginning of this year, these were still 20 per cent below the figures of 1913, the year before the war. The amount of clothing purchased also is quantitatively less than 1913. If there has been an increase on the basis of value, it is only due to the rise in prices. If the average income of the population is slightly higher than before the war, it must be taken into consideration, that at the same time the cost of living in Germany today is estimated at about 135 per cent of that in 1913. Consumption as a whole, therefore, has evidently not reached pre-war figures. The consumption of food products does not appear to have attained pre-war figures, even in point of value.

Foreign Trade Phase.
"The most precarious phase of the present situation in Germany is its foreign trade. I need not remind you that before 1914 Germany had an active trade balance of the widest scope. The foreign trade of the last years is characterized by a large excess of imports. Imports are larger and exports smaller than in 1913. This holds even if the figures are converted to a 1913 per capita price basis. "It is without doubt due only to the foreign credits that the large excess of imports and the increase in production, which made itself felt in the last quarter, became possible. Thus I have already approached the problem which is the most essential and acute one. Germany needs above all an expansion of its foreign trade in order to fulfill its obligations on reparation account and to repay the foreign credits.

"That this expansion may come in the near future is not a vain hope, for the purchasing power of the leading producers of raw materials, above all of the United States, seems to be steadily growing and will also be favorable to Germany, provided that the universal protectionism will be outbalanced by the necessities of the world trade. To my mind it is logically impossible to say in one sentence that Germany must fulfill the Dawes plan, and at the same time not to do the utmost to strengthen possibilities of export.

Nation Building Anew.
"Germany is beginning anew from the ground, it has done so politically and I can say that that task has been accomplished in a general way. Economically it is on the way of doing so. No doubt Germany has a very hard winter before her. There will be unemployment to a considerable extent. There are and there will be temporary financial difficulties in this and that industry. But our harvest is a good one, and the gold parity of our currency is firmly established beyond any doubt.

"Economic Germany is like a sea over which a fearful thunderstorm has been raging. The waves have slowed down, only here and there a wave still vaults the surface and perhaps overcomes a ship not properly fitted out. But on the whole the traffic has resumed its normal safe status."

"ATE BAR HEAD DEFENDS BOYS AND GIRLS OF PRESENT DAY"
John T. Baker Says They Are Clean Morally, but Enjoy a Greater Freedom.

The girls and youths of the present day were defended by John T. Baker of Kansas City, president of the Missouri Bar Association, in an address last night at banquet of the Women's Division of the St. Louis Chapter, American Institute of Banking, at the American Annex Hotel. Barker said the young people of today were as clean morally as they have been in any age, but that they enjoyed a greater freedom. Discussing lawlessness, he said the spirit was not merely one of opposition to laws, but was noticeable in a rebellion in business, religion and the home.

Dr. M. G. Kyle, president of Anna Seminary, another speaker, said there was not as much skepticism among the students of colleges as there was 100 years ago. Other speakers were I. W. Longan, president of the St. Louis Chapter; Miss Mary Melroy, Miss Helen Ross, Edward Ruder of the Mercantile Trust Co., Byron Moser of the Security National Bank and Dale Graham of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co.

Missouri Railroad Being Dismantled
BISMARCK, Mo., Nov. 6.—The Bellevue & Western Railroad, extending from Iron Mountain, in St. Francois County, to Bellevue, in Iron County, is being dismantled. That part of the road from Greenville to Bellevue is now being junked.

Direct from a refinery which makes gas for the fastest airplanes comes this super-fuel for motor cars. Flying Gas is not "doped"—nothing in it but pure gas of a quality that makes any motor take a new lease on life. Its pink color is simply a harmless dye, put there to aid you in identifying Flying Gas.

Flying Gas Will Do These Six Big Things for any Motor:

- Starts quick, saving battery
- Fires perfectly in a cold motor
- Less choking, no dilution of oil
- Eliminates carbon knock
- Permits lean carburetor mixture
- Midsummer efficiency in the coldest weather

Costs a little more, yes! But the nickel a gallon means dollars' worth of satisfaction when you need it most!

Miss Olga Cook, prima donna of "The Student Prince," who has reason to know. Miss Cook, as the inn-keeper's daughter, in the first act, was making love to the Prince while the chorus of students sang drinking songs and waved steins.
One mug crashed down on her head. She was taken off the stage and an understudy continued the part. Hereafter she will wear a

GAYER TELLS POLICE THEY MAKE CROOKS

Judge Again Assails Methods, Describing Vagrancy Arrest as "Persecution."

Judge Gayer, in Court of Criminal Correction, again questioned police methods from the bench yesterday, and rebuked an officer for prosecuting William Rose of 2627 Locust street on a vagrancy charge.
Rose had appealed a $100 Police Court fine. Judge Gayer released him after Detective Sergeant Gillard testified he arrested Rose, who has a police record, because "he was walking on Jefferson avenue, near Olive."

"You police officers are making men criminals by such tactics," the Judge declared. "I don't criticize you for arresting this man on suspicion, but why do you send him to Police Court on a vagrancy charge when you have nothing else against him? That is what is called persecution."

The police can use their time to better advantage than in trying to make such cases. Don't you think it would be better to give a man a chance to go straight than to throw him into jail, cause him to lose his job and become bitter against society?"

Several times in recent weeks
Judge Gayer has objected to police methods and has dismissed defendants because, he said, evidence was inconclusive.

A $500 fine assessed against Harry Kelly, 1821 Cook avenue, was by Judge Rosecan in City Court No. 1 on a charge of driving an automobile when intoxicated was sustained by Judge Gayer. Kelly appealed his case to the higher court and Judge Gayer later paroled him.

Another case against Kelly, in which he was fined $500 for careless driving, was discharged by Judge Gayer.

Forty-two cases appealed from city courts were heard by Judge Gayer yesterday. Of these, 20 were
discharged, 10 fines sustained,
three dismissed for want of prosecution and four dismissed on payment of costs.

CHINESE STRIKERS TIGHTEN BARRIER ON FOREIGN GOODS

American Oil, However, Is Being Demanded by Consumers; Swatow Again Changes Hands.

CANTON, Nov. 6.—The strikers, whose anti-foreign agitation has been showing signs of weakening, have adopted stricter measures to prevent trading in foreign goods.
Many Chinese merchants, however,
are surreptitiously withdrawing goods from foreign warehouses.

The newspapers report that Swa-
tow, an important port northeast
of Canton, has again been captured
by the Kuomintang troops.

The newspapers report that Swa-
tow, an important port northeast
of Canton, has again been captured
by the Kuomintang troops.

Swatow has repeatedly changed hands during the last few months.
In September it was reported to have been captured by Gen. Ching Chung-Wing, who has for years been carrying on an intermittent war against the Kuomintang, the party that supports the provisional Government in South China.

VIRGINIAN WOULD LET U. S. SUPERVISE SALE OF LIQUOR

Member of Legislature to Propose Memorial to Congress for Dry Act's Modification.

By the Associated Press.
RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 6.—
When the Virginia General Assembly convenes Jan. 15, Albert O.
Boschen, veteran representative from Richmond, will introduce a joint resolution for prohibition modification, he said last night.

He declared he would ask Virginia to lead in memorializing Congress for a national and reasonable adjustment of the national prohibition code.

Under this plan, Federal sale and supervision of whiskey, wine
and beer would be undertaken, with two quarts of whiskey or three gallons of beer or one gallon of wine allowed to an individual each month. Boschen contended this would make national prohibition possible and abolish bootlegging.

TRIO ADMIT ROBBERY PLAN

Statement May Solve the Murder of Mexican Laborer.

Additional circumstances in clearing up the case of Angel Garcia, a Mexican laborer of East St.
Louis, who died Tuesday from a fractured skull believed to have been inflicted in a robbery assault,
were gained yesterday when a negro companion of the three negro suspects held in a written statement obtained by Lieut. James Leahy, told of plans made by two of the negroes to rob Garcia and implicate a third.

An inquest, which has been delayed pending investigation, will be held tonight. Garcia is the second Mexican laborer to meet death under unexplained circumstances within a month in East St. Louis.

AMERICANS STILL AWAIT OFFER ON ITALIAN DEBT

Several Days Have Been Spent in Negotiation, but Rome's Attitude Is Uncertain.

QUESTION OF FUTURE CAPACITY UNSOLVED

Impression Is Italy Expects to Settle on Basis of Average Annual Payment of $45,000,000.

By CHARLES MICHELSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Several days of negotiation of the Italian debt find the American commission still delving into the figures of Italy's capacity to pay as presented by Count Volpi at the first session, and still wondering if Premier Mussolini's financiers are going to make an offer.

The investigation of Italy's capacity to pay is not being limited to that capacity, according to the present poor balance sheet, but the American commissioners are trying to peer into the future to determine how the debtor country will stand in five or 10 years. There is not much difference in the survey of her fiscal condition today from the picture painted in the 24 Italian brochures, which have exacted much admiration by their thoroughness, but the rub comes when it is sought to calculate what Italy will be able to pay a few years hence.

Italy has been making splendid progress in the reduction of her liabilities by reason of her taxing system and the cutting of her military establishment, and she may be in a position to pay twice as much in five years as she can now.

Italy's Attitude Uncertain. There has been no indication of Italy's attitude toward discounting the future. There is an impression that she expects to settle on something approaching the Belgian terms, without, of course, the special consideration for pre-armistice debt that Belgium got because of President Wilson's commitment. Roughly this would provide for relatively small initial payments, graduating up to a maximum of $48,000,000 a year and extending over a period of 42 years. The average would not be far from $45,000,000 a year, which would represent the payment of the principal with about 2 per cent interest.

Lower Than French Offer. This would represent a tremendous drop from the British terms and would be considerably below even the French offer, which was deemed too small to be taken seriously.

The suggested compensation for the discrepancy is that whereas the American and French debt commissions could not agree on France's present capacity to pay, there was no approach to ascertaining what she might be willing to pay if her situation improved. The only revision contemplated by the French was downward if Germany failed to pay her reparation installments.

The idea of a revision upward for Italy, should conditions warrant it, is what Senator Borah is supposed to have urged on President Coolidge.

The subcommittee that is delving into this matter consists of Secretary Mellon, Secretary Hoover, Senator Smoot and Representative Clegg.

Commissioner Says Congress Authorizes Tribal Fund Expenditures. WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Charles H. Burke, Indian Commissioner, denied in a statement today charges made recently by representatives of the seven Montana Indian tribes at a powwow, that he "knowingly and intentionally permitted Indian funds to be misappropriated, wasted and squandered." He said he was uninformed as to the names of the Indians attending the meeting or its purpose and his information was that the great majority of the Indians living in Montana are earnestly engaged in trying to support themselves and their families through industrial activities and do not have any time to attend these so-called powwows.

Commissioner Burke stated that all expenditures from tribal funds were authorized by Congress, the Indian Office merely carrying out its mandate.

BURKE DENIES INDIAN CHARGES

Commissioner Says Congress Authorizes Tribal Fund Expenditures.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Charles H. Burke, Indian Commissioner, denied in a statement today
charges made recently by representatives of the seven Montana Indian tribes at a powwow, that he knowingly and intentionally permitted the Indians to be misappropriated, wasted and squandered.
He said he was uninformed as to the names of the Indians attending the meeting and its purpose and his

CLOSENESS OF KANSAS CITY VOTE GIVES NO GROUND FOR JUBILATION BY EITHER PARTY

Republicans Face Danger in 1926 of Another Sort, Due to Apathy of Workers as Result of Baker's Tactics.

BY CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 6.—Democrats interested in state-wide organization politics are showing considerable elation over the result of the municipal election in Kansas City Tuesday, though which was accomplished a passing of the control of the municipal government from the Republicans to the Democrats, giving the latter a hold on the payroll once more.

Except for the fact that the chaos will provide some 2500 Democrats with jobs which for two years have been held by Republicans, it is difficult to see in this election the cause for the jubilation. The politicians hold it to be an indication of a strong trend toward Democratic success in the state next year.

Basis of Opinion.

This opinion is based largely on the fact that the 2500 job-holders can be counted upon for much more effectively than in elections than could be expected if they were not on the public payroll, though the soundness of this theory or the effectiveness of their work must be considered problematic. They, or 2500 like them, were on the payroll when the Republicans wrested control of the city from the Democrats, and some 2500 Republicans of their same type were on the payroll Tuesday when the Democrats wrested it back to very much the same theory.

As a matter of fact, Kansas City is not very stable politically. It switches back and forth between the parties. Just a year ago Coolidge carried it by more than 15,000, and yet at the same election Baker carried it for Governor over Nelson by only 349.

The closeness of the election Tuesday was not calculated to give any very firm base for hope by either party in considering state elections. The Democrats lost the city by electing five of the eight city jobs by electing five of the eight members of the Council, which, under the city's new charter will appoint a city manager,
who will have virtually all the power the Mayor formerly had. As the Mayor will have a vote in the Council, the Democrats under the new charter will have only five votes out of nine. They won one of these places by only a little more than 200 votes.

Senatorial Situation.

However, at this state of the political situation, the Democrats have other reasons for hope in carrying the 1926 senatorial election, chief of which is the growing unpopularity of the present State administration. Undoubtedly Senator Williams, a Baker appointee, will be the Republican nominee for the Senate. Williams, of course, will have to carry the Baker administration through the campaign.

The action of the Governor in ignoring the Republican party workers throughout the State and picking upon Dr. Ortiz Enloe, who had no place in the Republican organization, as a confidential adviser in virtually all political matters, certainly has weakened the spirit of a lot of Republicans who usually are working diligently.

There are a number of instances reported in which the Governor has dislodged these regular working Republicans from their jobs and given the places to men whose sole party record is their support of Baker for the nomination last year.

Perhaps Williams will be able to arouse these workers to activity
by next year. He with Dr. E. B.
Clements, Republican National Committee man, and William Phelps, chairman of the Republican State Committee, have been devoting several months to that work, visiting every congressional district and holding meetings with local committeemen and other Republicans. The success of the work remains to be determined.

Election Trend.

The Democrats, however, usually carry Missouri in other than presidential elections, seemingly having the advantage then that the Republicans have in the presidential years. In the past 25 years the Republicans have carried Missouri in four of the seven presidential elections, the Democrats winning in only three, one of those being in 1912, the year of the national Republican split. In that same period the Democrats have won in five of the six off-year elections, their only failure being in 1918 when former Gov. Folk was the nominee for the Senate.

Given the usual advantage and the additional favor of the Republican apathy in State politics, the Democrats have a good chance of winning the city under the new charter, it would appear that the Democrats have grounds for real hope for next year, though the Kansas City election cannot be said to contribute much to the grounds for the hope.

ANNEXATION PLANS
WILL GO BEFORE BOARD AS WHOLE

Meeting of Nov. 20 to Consider Seven Proposals Committee Rejected, Meeting at Clayton Last Night.

METROPOLITAN AREA
IDEA GAINS FAVOR

Lashly Willing to Accept
Some Scheme for Adjustment if It Does Not Destroy Local Autonomy.

The Board of Freeholders, at its next meeting, Nov. 20, probably will go into committee of the whole in an endeavor to choose the general scheme of metropolitan expansion it will follow, since its Scope and Plan Committee last night recommended rejection of seven proposals before it.

Rejection of the proposals by the committee will not prevent the board from overriding this recommendation in favor of some one proposal, if it chooses. Its choice now appears problematic. Possibly some new proposals may be submitted.

Indications were strengthened by last night's developments that the most likely scheme the board may adopt will be one creating some sort of metropolitan area, without destroying the entity of St. Louis County.

Under the Constitution, one of three general schemes may be followed—full merger of city and county as one unit under city government; return of city into county with a readjustment of political relations, and the chance for annexations by the city through laws which then would be applicable; or piecemeal annexation by the city.

The Scope and Plan Committee, meeting at Clayton Courthouse, rejected three proposals by Hugh K.
Wagner, a city freeholder, one under each of the general schemes, proposed by Joseph C. McAtee, County Court clerk, one by Robert
A. Roessel (county) for a full consolidation under a metropolitan commission; a similar proposal by Robert A. Roessel, a city freeholder, and a resolution by Arthur V. Lashly (county) providing that only the scheme for return of the city into the county be considered.

Action on a proposal by Clarence
L. Shotwell (county) for the so-called Federal metropolitan plan was deferred because it had not been discussed, but there is every indication that the committee will reject it, too, wiping its slate clean
for the second general scheme.
The Scope and Plan Committee
has four county members—A. E. L.
Gardner, chairman, Lashly, Roessel and McAtee—and three city members—Wagner, J. F. O. Reiler and Mrs. Roscoe F. Anderson. Last night Mrs. Anderson was absent.

The occasion was the annual fall dinner of the Alfalfa Club, a unique institution of Washington, D. C., one appears to know just when how of why the Alfalfa Club came into being, and archeological studies have developed only the fact that an alfalfa root will go farther than a drink of water in known entity of the animal or vegetable kingdom. Some doubt is cast on this theory, however, by the discovery that the drink carried by the alfalfa root is only water.

The dinner was given to celebrate Mr. Longworth's fifty-sixth birthday anniversary. Longworth's hat was cast into the presidential ring of the future by Representative John Garner of Texas, Democratic leader in the House. "Nick" Longworth is a member of the National House of Representatives.

Reading a lengthy statement, Lashly expressed willingness to accept some plan for a metropolitan area, for adjustment of urban and suburban relations, if it would not destroy local autonomy. He demanded retention of a county government, but conceded the necessity of changing the form of county government "to one more suitable and appropriate for the administration of the fiscal affairs of a county of 1,000,000 people." He declared that there might be some objection even to return of the city into the county, since the city's preponderance of voters then would be "dangerous to the county," he declared, "will have to be neutralized in the plan for representation on the governing body. That is a matter to be worked out in the adjustment of relations."

Lashly is chairman of the Adjustment of Relations Committee of the board, which has a county majority. He declared that the people of Missouri and St. Louis County are not ready to abolish the county form of government,
although a fundamental objection to this plan has been raised. He

PAINTING BY PIONEER ARTIST OF ST. LOUIS IS PRESENTED TO THE CITY ART MUSEUM

Canvas Completed About 1854 and Adjudged to Be Wimar's Best Work Is Gift of Miss Lillie Randell of London.

Carl Wimar's painting, "The Captivity," adjudged by many critics the most superior work of this pioneer St. Louisian, whose canvases are hung in several St. Louis homes but whose most popular works are found in his now transfigured paintings in the Court House, has been presented to the City Art Museum.

Announcement was made today by Director Sherer of the gift of the picture by Miss Lillie B. Randell of London, England, and of its acceptance by the museum's administrative board of control.

The canvas, about 30 by 40 inches,
will be displayed for public view
in Gallery 25 after Dec. 1.

Artist Died in 1862.

Wimar, who was born in Sleg-burg, Germany, Feb. 19, 1828, emigrated to St. Louis at 15 and died here in 1862, seized upon the early American Indian as his primary motif, thus being the precursor of the later Remington. Of the painting, which now returns to the adopted home of the artist, his biographer, Capt. William Romaine Hodges, writing in 1908, says:
"While, at a Düsseldorf, about 1854, several of his important works were executed. Among these was 'The Captivity,' which now owned in London. This I regard as technically the best of all his works. It is a powerful composition, illustrating the war of extermination between the races, without the revolting details which by their presence would not add to the force with which the story is told, but cause one to shudder at the unnecessary portrayal of human ferocity."

"The Captivity Charge."

"A small party of Indians have killed an American army officer, who had doubtless ventured too far from camp, and are hurrying away with his horse and accoutrements. The eye of the finely modeled charger shows by its anguish that he realizes the fate of those into whose hands he has fallen. The cowardly savages know well the vengeance which will swiftly follow the discovery of their crimes, and as they make their way through the prairie grass, they look eagerly around for signs of the dreaded enemy.
A gorgeous sunset fills the Western sky with gold and red,
and tints the clouds with crimson.
The swarthy forms of the savages are edged with sun rays reflected from the clouds. The glory of the heavens diverts the attention in a measure from the hideous story of hate, the conflict between savagery and civilization, begun with the advent of the white man upon the Atlantic Coast, and which terminated after a series of desperate and hopeless conflicts following the extermination of the buffalo."

Canvas Sold Several Times.

In Capt. Hodges' bibliography of Wimar's life and works, he relates that the painting was at one time in the possession of Franklin
L. Ridgely, from whose collection
it passed to that of Samuel M.
Dodd, who had it on exhibition for six months.

It seemed generally conceded that piecemeal annexation should not be considered, and he described the city as "impractical, visionary and impossible." Such a proposition would be rejected 20 to 1 by the county, he averred.

County suburbs have excellent governments, Lashly declared, and he added that whenever the county government became too bad, conditions were corrected "every time the people became sufficiently aroused to go to the polls." He said the only benefit to St. Louis of expansion would be the increase of population.

PAINLESS STAVES

SYRIAN CRISIS

and Post-Dispatch).

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The Painless Government gained its point in the Chamber of Deputies and succeeded in staving off until Nov. 20 the threatened debate on Syria.

Gen. Sarraïl, the High Commissioner for Syria, is on his way to France, and the Premier argued it was unfair to judge the work of a man absent and unable to present his defense, although opposition Deputies pointed out the question was not of personalities but of policy and the Government's own faults.

The Socialists, who abstained Tuesday from voting either for or against Premier Painless, yesterday supported him, most of the day abstaining.

Meanwhile news from Syria continues to disturb opinion here.
More fighting is expected, according to reports printed in Paris. A dispatch from Cairo says the Syrian insurgent leader Bakri, at the head of 4000 men, is concentrating 15 miles from Damascus and preparing to attack the city.

Bakri has proclaimed himself
President of the "Syrian republic," and established a seat of government at Homs. It is inferred by some that his object is to have a pretext for officially bringing the Syrian question before the League of Nations. For the anti-French drive on Damascus he counts on the support of Druse tribes.

Battle Outside City.

The French have hurried more troops into the city. Airplanes are watching the outskirts. Thanks to their vigilance a bank of 200 insurgents was discovered Tuesday seven miles from Damascus. The French immediately attacked with bombs and machine guns and dispersed the rebels with heavy losses.
The noises of the cannonade threw the population into panic and large numbers again abandoned the city.

The rebels have succeeded in cutting the railroad at Hama, only four miles outside Damascus.

Hoping to surprise Bakri before he is ready for battle, Gen. Gamelin has sent against him a strong column of infantry, cavalry and artillery.

Two battalions of infantry on a war footing will leave Bayonne and Tarbes today for Syria, Deputy Thornegay stated in the Chamber and he was not contradicted by Painless.

Deputy Alcide Delmont warned
the Government that the French mandate in Syria was seriously criticized in the mandates commission of the League of Nations. Although Painless made no attempt to defend Sarraïl's policy he repeated
the information already given out concerning the French casualties
in Syria, namely, a total of 4622 since January, 1920. The number killed, wounded and missing from July 15 to Oct. 15, he said, was 585.

French Report Fighting Near Palestine Border.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publications Co. (New York World
and Post-Dispatch).

JERUSALEM, Nov. 6.—Reports from Syria indicate that the Moslems are preparing for a general rising against France. Optimists French reports that the rebels are practically subdued are declared untrue, and some correspondents predict that all Syria within a few days will be in rebellion, determined to fight until France withdraws, leaving Syria to the Turks if necessary.

The Syrian rebels are moving toward Palestine. The French report an engagement yesterday in the foothills of Mount Hermon in the Kunfria district bordering Palestine.
According to an official announcement at Beirut, the rebels have torn up the tracks of the Hedjaz railway south of Damascus. This may mean temporary suspension of the train service between Damascus and Hama.

AMAZON VALLEY CAN YIELD A BIG RUBBER SUPPLY

Report to Hoover Says Most of 300,000,000 Trees Were Allowed to Fall Back into Neglect.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Rubber production in the Amazon Valley of South America, which was the original home of the forest tree that is now principally nurtured in the plantations of British East India, can be brought up to a very high mark, the Commerce Department declared today, in outlining results of a special study in the area.

There are 300,000,000 rubber-bearing trees in the Amazon country, most of which were allowed to fall back into neglect when the plantation rubber lowered prices,
the department said.

The report is one of a series
made to Secretary Hoover by special investigators. The rubber study has been pursued vigorously because under the influence of the British production restriction scheme, the price of raw rubber has been forced from 30 cents to upwards of $1 a pound.

The Amazon basin is mostly forest country, the experts said. The rubber trees grow wild and their sap is collected by tapping. The product became more expensive in comparison with the plantation method, and the Amazon rubber groves were allowed to become idle several years ago. The investigators believe the Amazon production is showing signs of great stimulus from high prices.

GERMANS PRAISE PEACE PACT

"Willing to Close Page in Book of War," Mendelssohn Says in Paris.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—For the first time since the war the German language was heard in the council of the International Chamber of Commerce today when Franz von Mendelssohn hailed the Locarno security pact as a good omen for future peace.

In a warm welcome to the Germans, Walter Leaf of England,
president of the organization, said:
"The presence of von Mendelssohn and his colleagues today is an eloquent symbol of the reality of that will to peace which we all recognize as the sole stable foundation for the renascence of Europe."

The German spokesman replied that he and his fellow delegates
"as representatives of German industry wish to witness by our presence here that we are willing to close the page in the book of war and help to write a new chapter of co-operation."

Vienna Has a Silver Rush.

VIENNA, Nov. 6.—A vein of silver in a mass of porphyry has been discovered in the quarries carried by the City of Vienna at Petersberg. The discovery caused much excitement, but city authorities are inclined to minimize its importance.

His Last Work in St. Louis.

"The story of the execution of these paintings is one of infinite pathos," his biographer records.
"Wimar was slowly dying of consumption. Toward the last he was this day last work, when the dome is finished I will be finished, too." His words were only too true,
for when the dome was finally finished the brush fell from his hand and he died on the 18th of November, 1862."

I AM the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I AM writing on behalf of those who recently brought to St. Louis 15 church leaders from the Presbyterian boards and wish, for them, to thank you for the publicity you gave our field day. We all greatly appreciate the co-operation of the papers, as without it we cannot accomplish what we desire. Your announcements of the meetings and accounts of the services were a substantial contribution to their success.

Again thanking you on behalf of the local committee, I remain,

The European Powers are going on an imperialistic and in doing so they have seemingly cast aside all the cunning and tact with which exploitation is best conducted. They are flirting with disaster at the hands of peoples who are known for their fierceness and ruthlessness when aroused. They are antagonizing the teeming Mohammedan world from Constantinople to Calcutta.

Henry Ford believed the automobile was the key to the nation's economic salvation, a philosophy which saved Henry Ford from complete degradation of his own intelligence. It is his practical experience as a manufacturer of automobiles. Off in Dearborn, surrounded by the editors of the Dearborn Independent, Mr. Ford might preach tolerance and proscription. But when the consequences of intolerance began to appear among his working men at the Dearborn plant when he began to see what was being set by setting men against each other, Henry Ford became an apostle of intolerance.

LIBRARY TABLET LIKE ONE MUSEUM GOT

Marcellite's Also From Palace of Assyrian King; One From Missionary in 1856.

The Assyrian marble tablet of the sixth century B. C., which has been purchased by the city for approximately $14,000 is similar in practically every respect to an Assyrian tablet which was presented to the Mercantile Library Association in 1856 by the Rev. Dwight W. Marsh, who was a missionary of the American Board of Foreign Missions at Mosul, near Nineveh, from 1831 to 1860.

The library tablet hangs in the hallway on the sixth floor of the First National Bank Building. The library association has refused an offer of $20,000 for the tablet, an official said today. It is about eight square, while the city's tablet is five feet high and three feet wide.

As does that of the city, the library tablet depicts one of the soldiers and romantic figures of the Assyrians. Both tablets are of a sandy-gray marble, and show the figure of a priest wearing the horned cap distinctive of the gods. Both stones are a part of a series of great slabs forming a marriage time which adorned the walls of the principal chamber in the palace of Ashur-nazir-pal, King of Assyria in Calah, before Nineveh became the capital.

ROCHEFOUCAULD SCION WILL WED ACTRESS, FAMILY OBJECTS

Young Count Stanislas' Case Will Be Taken to Pope.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—The noble Roche-foucauld family is trying to prevent young Count Stanislas de la Roche-foucauld's marriage with the actress, Alice Cocca. There is no appeal from the recent court judgment, which leaves the Count free to marry as he chooses, but his relatives are trying to save the young man from what they consider a disgrace.

Close friends of the family, however, said it was not true that appeals would be made to the Pope and the King of Italy to forbid the marriage.

"The matter is not one in which either the Pope or the King can move," said one. "It is for the family. We still hope to prevent the marriage and are all using every influence to make Stanislas see the folly of his projected union."

WOMAN TEACHER AT PUBLIC SCHOOL 44 YEARS DIES

Miss Virginia A. Mordcaul, Teacher of Handicrafts, St. Louis—Funeral Tomorrow.

A service of 44 years as teacher at the Delaney Public School in Grandview was ended with the burial at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon of Miss Virginia A. Mordcaul, who died at her home, 3726 Texas avenue, at 11:45 o'clock.

Numbered among the former pupils of Miss Mordcaul are hundreds of St. Louisans. She is survived by two sisters, Mr. Charles Mordcaul and Mrs. Walter Jenkins of Chicago; two nieces, Mrs. Melba Bannan and Miss Amanda Bannan; and one nephew, Arthur L. Mordcaul.

Funeral services will be conducted at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning from the Bannan home to the St. Louis Catholic cemetery.

SCHOOL FOR MANEQUINS

To Be Taught How to Strut, Glide, Pause and Pose.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—It was the Black Turtle in "Alice in Wonderland" who studied "reeling and gliding" in his underground school. Marie is going to do the Mock Turtle one better in a school for mannequins, where "pausing and posing" and "strutting and gliding" will be part of the curriculum this winter.

Less mysterious in their nature than the simple physical exercises which the girls' figures trim and keep—the instruction in the art of strutting and gliding into the secret of showing off a gown. The course requires from 18 to 20 lessons.

Social Activities

TO VISIT IN WEST

MRS. HENRY MUDD FRAZER.

TWO debutante parties on the social calendar today are a luncheon for 36 debutantes at the St. Louis Woman's Club by Mrs. Charles W. Hotcamp of 6805 McPherson avenue for her daughter, Miss Eugenia Howard, and a dinner-dance at the St. Louis Country Club this evening, when Miss Elizabeth Cuendet and Miss Lillie Allen will share honors, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Kaufman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bacon will be the hosts.

Tomorrow afternoon Miss Aileen Lonsdale will be honor guest at Mrs. Wilson Linn Hemmingsway's tea dance at the Woman's Club and in the evening three of the bodes, Misses Maud Street, Ruth Hennings and Mary Carter Davis, will share honors at the Country Club at a dinner-dance to be given by Mrs. Samuel Graham Wilson Jr.

Cards are out for the debut dinner to be given by Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Hussey of 5122 Washington boulevard, to present their daughter, Miss Helen Hussey, to society. The guests have been invited for 8:30 o'clock Dec. 9 at the St. Louis Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Hussey and their son, Nolan Hussey, have been called to Ottawa, Canada, by the death of Mr. Nolan Hussey's father, Sir James Loughheed of Calcutta. Mrs. Nolan Hussey was with her father several days.

Cards have been received from Mrs. J. Henry Conrad and Mrs. Andrew Louis Wunsch for a luncheon and bridge at the Coronado Hotel Monday, Nov. 16 at 12:30 o'clock.

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Gardner, three miles west of St. Charles, has been completed, and is being used by its owners at present for a series of delightful house parties given over week-ends.

The Morning Choral Club has announced a Members' Day recital Thursday afternoon, Nov. 12, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Wednesday Club. The club will present Lucilla de Vescevi, soprano. The program will be followed by a tea in the reception rooms on the second floor of the club.

Miss Isabel Hackman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank X. Hackman of Maple avenue, will be honor guest at a dance to be given by her parents this evening at the Forest Park Hotel to introduce her to social circles. The ballroom will be decorated with pink roses and smilax. About 200 guests are expected. The honoree will be gown in geranium and rose crepe studded with rhinestones.

The marriage of Miss Laura Catherine Craddock, daughter of Mr. William Henry Craddock to Mr. Albert W. Roth of St. Louis was solemnized at 8 o'clock last night at St. George's Episcopal Church in Kansas City. Dr. Charles R. Turner, pastor, read the service.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Harry H. Craddock, was gown in white wedding ring veil made with the light bodice and full skirt. Her gown was embroidered in pearls and rhinestones. She wore her grandmother's wedding veil of maitre lace arranged in a coronet of lace studded with rhinestones. Her shower bouquet was bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Virginia Haves was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were

Mrs. John O. Price of St. Louis and Miss Geraldine Craddock. Their frocks of velvet were like the bride's. The maid of honor wore peach velvet, Mrs. Price wore orchid and Miss Craddock was gown in green velvet. They wore short tulle veils held in place with a silver wreath studded with rhinestones. They carried arm bouquet of gold mine roses. Master William Henry Craddock III, was ring bearer. He wore a page's suit of white satin and carried the ring on a white velvet and pink chiffon pillow.

Alfred Meyer of St. Louis acted as best man for Mr. Roth and the groomsmen were John O. Price of St. Louis and Mr. William Craddock. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The living room was decorated in hampers of yellow and white chrysanthemums and palms and ferns. The bride's cake was arranged in a base of roses and lilies of the valley.

The St. Louis guests were Mr. and Mrs. Will K. Roth; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haussler; Miss Carkrie Roth; Miss Kate Roth; Mr. William Perry and Mr. John Riden. Mr. and Mrs. Roth left for a motor trip West and will be at home after Nov. 15 in Denver.

Among the University of Missouri students returning home for the Washington-Missouri football game tomorrow are Miss Germaine Harbison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Harbison of 745 West 24th avenue, and her roommate, Miss Margaret Smith of Kansas City. They will return Sunday to the Alpha Phi house at Columbia.

Mrs. Roy V. Coffey, 3654 Plad avenue, will give a tea to all members of the Sigma Kappa sorority tomorrow afternoon.

The Midland Valley Country Club will entertain its members with a bridge-dinner tomorrow evening.

SAYS COLLEGE MEANS $90 DAILY GAIN IN EARNINGS

Dr. Louis B. Hillis Bases Statement to Kiwanis Club Here on Statistics.

"Each day that a man spends in college is worth $90 a day in future earnings," declared Dr. Louis B. Hillis of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Charities, New York City, in an address on the "Investment of Youth" before members of the Kiwanis Club at the American Annex yesterday.

Dr. Hillis said he based his statement on statistics showing that the average college graduate has earned $150,000 at the age of 60 years, as compared to $75,000 total earnings at that age by the high school graduate who failed to attend college, and $45,000 earned at 60 years by the man who went to work following graduation from grade school.

"The man who quits school to take a job is cheating himself," Dr. Hillis said. "At 20 the average college man has gone beyond the maximum earning power of the average man who has only a grade school education, and his earning power increases even after he is 60 years old."

Dr. Hillis declared parents should give more time to assisting their children in choosing a profession.

Russian Oil Exports Break Record.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—All records for Russian oil exports are declared to have been broken during the Soviet fiscal year, ending Oct. 1, 1925, in a statement by the Russian Information Bureau, which placed the total at 1,216,000 metric tons. This, it said, was about 9 per cent higher than last year's total and 44 per cent more than the 1913 figures. Nearly $5,255,000 worth of oil-well machinery, the bureau declared, was purchased during the year in the United States.

CHICAGO CATHOLIC CHURCH TO BECOME A BASILICA

John's to Be Richly Endowed With Special Religious Privileges.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Except one such structure in the East, Chicago is to have the only basilica in the United States—that is a Catholic church richly endowed, with special religious privileges, such as those attached to the famous shrine of St. Anne de Beaurpre in Canada and the Catholic Cathedral in Quebec.

Formal announcement is made that on Nov. 8 old St. John's Church in Chicago becomes officially the Basilica of St. John, affiliated with the 1600-year-old Basilica of St. John Lateran in Rome. St. John's is the cathedral of the Roman pontiff and is the mother of all Catholic churches both in Rome and throughout the world. In solemnizing the change of status of the Chicago church into a basilica, pontifical mass will be celebrated by Archbishop Albert T. Dager of Santa Fe, N. M., and an address will be delivered by the Right Rev. Francis C. Kelley, former president of the Extension Society of the Catholic Church and now Bishop of Oklahoma.

One of the features of the celebration will be the unveiling of 24 large paintings brought from Rome for the new basilica by the pastor, Right Rev. Monsignor William D. O'Brien. These canvases are of the brush of Silvio di Sisto, one of the foremost painters of Rome.

Not only is the Chicago basilica to be richly endowed with special religious privileges by virtue of its dignity as a basilica, but it is also exceptionally favored otherwise, according to the announcement of relics, namely, the depositary of relics of the True Cross, the Twelve Apostles, St. Anne and the newly canonized St. Teresa, known as "The Little Flower of Jesus." These relics will be exposed for veneration at novenas in the basilica and on the feast days of the saints.

A relic of St. John the Evangelist will also be exposed for veneration for the first time in the basilica on the evening of Nov. 8, after the administration of the sacrament of confirmation by the Right Rev. Edward F. Hoban, auxiliary Bishop of Chicago.

CONCORDIA PUBLISHING HOUSE TO HAVE PUBLIC RECEPTION

New Annex to Plant at Jefferson and Miami to Be Opened to Inspection This Evening.

The Concordia Publishing House, Jefferson and Miami streets, will hold a public reception this afternoon and evening during which visitors will be shown the latest addition to the plant, a modern three-story brick factory annex. A souvenir booklet of 48 pages relating the history of the establishment and its works will be distributed.

The Publishing House is owned by the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church and was established in 1868. It publishes 20 periodicals of a religious nature and prints books in five languages. At present its plant has a floor space of four acres and employs 150 persons.

DOUGLAS ESTATE $100,000

Late Frisco Railway Official Left Property to Relatives.

The will of Alexander Douglas, vice president of the Frisco Railroad, who died last August, was filed yesterday. He disposed of an estate valued at $100,000 to the following beneficiaries:

Ten per cent to Jane J. Nettleship, a niece; 30 per cent to Mrs. Helen N. Marshall, also a niece; 5 per cent to a nephew, Joseph A. Nettleship; 20 per cent to another nephew, William Nettleship; a like amount to Mrs. John Nettleship; and 5 per cent each to James D. Nettleship, his wife and a daughter. The National Bank of Commerce was appointed executor.

Cooking Lecture for Girl Scouts.

A demonstration-lecture on how to prepare and serve a dinner will be given to Girl Scouts Monday evening by the home service department of the Laclede Gas Light Co. to prepare them for an event of "Girl Scout week," when, on Friday, Nov. 13, the scouts have agreed to prepare dinner at home while "mother goes to the store."

The demonstration will begin with the purchase of foodstuffs and continue through the serving of a simple, balanced meal.

SIR ESME HOWARD TO DELIVER THREE SPEECHES HERE MONDAY

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

A PROTESTANT VICTORY.

From the New York World.

MAYOR JOHN W. SMITH of Detroit, who is a Catholic, describes the defeat of the Klan as "a victory for tolerance led by Protestants." A prominent Mason, speaking to Mr. Leary, The World's correspondent, said: "It is best that we Protestants should clean up our own mess." An analysis of the vote cast in Detroit shows that this is exactly what the Protestants did. It was a Protestant vote under Protestant leadership which laid low the Klan. This is the proper way to deal with the Klan, for the real menace of the Klan is not what it may do to the Catholics, and not what it may do to the Jews, and not what it may do to the negroes, and not what it may do to the foreign-born. The real menace of the Klan is the disgrace and division with which it threatens the good name and the religious principles of American Protestants. The Klan puts a libel upon Protestantism; it distorts and denies everything that Protestants profess and hold sacred. The Klan denies the freedom of the human conscience which the great reformers proclaimed. By creating a religious test for public office the Klan denies the principle of the separation of church and state for which the great reformers fought. The Klan denies the essence of the Gospel of Jesus taught, because it rejects the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

The victory of a Catholic Mayor in Detroit is, therefore, above all, a Protestant victory.

It is also a victory for all those who seek a peaceful development of American civilization. It is an important fact that at the last Henry Ford came out openly against the Klan. Henry Ford, as everyone knows, has the makings of a klanman, and for a time he was, together with William Jennings Bryan, one of the favorite heroes of the Klan. Mr. Ford has just enough ignorance and just enough suspicion and just enough fundamental inexperience to swallow the propaganda of the Klan; a man who could seriously accept the lying forgeries about the Jewish protocols could perfectly well believe the equally slanderous nonsense about Papist plots. The thing which saved Henry Ford from such complete degradation of his own intelligence is his practical experience as a manufacturer of automobiles. Off in Dearborn, surrounded by the editors of the Dearborn Independent, Mr. Ford might preach bigotry and proscription. But when the consequences of intolerance began to appear among his working men at the factory, when he began to see what hatred can do by setting men against each other, even Henry Ford became an apostle of tolerance.

It is to be hoped that this conversion of Mr. Ford will be studied in those parts of the South where the Klan has displaced both the civil government and the historic Protestant church. The lesson Mr. Ford learned last week is an important one for the South to learn, too, as the South goes on to realize its great economic future. If the South is going to grow according to its promises and its possibilities, it will have to abandon its ferocious prejudices just as fast as possible. The South cannot have great cities, it cannot have great corporate enterprises, it cannot have great mixed populations of workers and executives and technicians and traders if it is going to have the Ku Klux Klan and the fundamentalists in control of its governments and its schools and its press.

Woman Held as Mail Robber.
By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, Nov. 5.—Miss Jeanne Newbolt, charged with stealing from letter boxes in Cleveland, O., started for that city yesterday in the custody of two United States Marshals. It is alleged she obtained bank statements from apartment mail boxes and then cashed forged checks in distant cities.

How Doctors Treat Colds and Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 50 cents. At any drug store.

Do Others Recoil From Your Breath?

Is your breath sweet or is it offensive? A foul breath is repellent to everyone. No degree of outward cleanliness can outweigh the disgust it causes. Don't resort to temporary measures to purify your breath. A neglected mouth is too great a menace to yourself and others not to take seriously. When bits of food remain in your mouth after meals to decay and rot, when mucus plugs the throat 14 hours out of 24, then millions of bacteria are breeding in your mouth. Not only is your breath foul, but your teeth, gums, throat and general health are endangered.

To keep your mouth free from poisons you must keep it hygienically clean all the time. You can do this ONLY by brushing your teeth and gums thoroughly after every meal. When away from home use the SANI-FOLD Noon Day Tooth Brush which can be kept in pocket or handbag, ready for use, wherever you are. Use the SANI-FOLD today. It's great to have a good taste in your mouth!

SANI-FOLD is a full size tooth brush; folds to half length, convenient for pocket or handbag; finest white fast-tied bristles, scientifically tufted and shaped; cup-guard handle for rinsing mouth; transparent colors and ivory. 50c—ALL DRUGGISTS.

Cuticura Baths Best For Children

Teach your children to use Cuticura Soap because it is best for their tender skins. Assisted by occasional applications of Cuticura Ointment to first signs of irritation or dandruff it keeps the skin and scalp clean and healthy. Cuticura Talcum is cooling and soothing.

SQUEEZED TO DEATH

When the body begins to stiffen and movement becomes painful it is usually an indication that the kidneys are out of order. Keep these organs healthy. Drink plenty of water and try

A world standard diuretic stimulant famous since 1896. In three sizes, all druggists. Guaranteed as represented. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation.

WIDOW ARRESTED AT HUSBAND'S GRAVE

She Is Held as Material Witness in Connection With Hammer Murder Case.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Straight from the open grave of her murdered husband, where smoldered the dying embers of a fiery cross planted by 40 robed and masked men and women of the Ku Klux Klan, Mrs. Priscilla Clark, in a funeral car surrounded by detectives and with a plain clothes man as chauffeur, was driven to police headquarters at Hillside, N. J., and locked up as a material witness to the crime.

Later, after hours of questioning, she was removed, still in the heavy, sombre black of a mourning widow, to Union County jail at Elizabeth, where she spent the night.

She will be formally arraigned, with her acknowledged sweetheart, Joseph Cowen of Newark, who since Tuesday has been held in connection with William Clark's mysterious death at the hands of a hammer murderer in his garage at Hillside last Monday night.

Mrs. Clark's detention and the definite announcement of these forthcoming legal steps came at the close of a day of drama that roused the little community of Hillside to new heights of excitement that has prevailed since the brutal crime stirred the town.

It began with the start of the funeral cortege from Joseph A. West's undertaking parlors, in Newark, shortly after 2 o'clock. The brief indoor services concluded there, dozens of floral tributes, surmounted by a large red cross bearing in white the initials K. K. K., were loaded into the open car that led the procession.

Several hundred sightseers, thronging the street outside, pressed closely on the lines drawn by a score of policemen as young Mrs. Clark, weeping violently, staggered down the steps on the arms of two attendants and was placed in the first mourner's car. With an escort of Newark police, responding to the request of Samuel Clark, the murdered man's father, for protection at the funeral, that he might not "get the same dose" as his son, the cortege moved toward Evergreen Cemetery, Hillside.

At the county line it was met by a detachment of Hillside police, furnished in response to the same plea.

Widow Taken to Station.
With the final "Amen" of the funeral service, Police Chief Sanford of Hillside stepped on a running board of the car in which Mrs. Clark had sat behind drawn curtains during the ceremony. Detective Sergeant Steinholz leaped on the other. The plainclothes policeman who had driven the machine from the undertaking parlor to the cemetery threw in the clutch and the limousine roared away.

Direct to headquarters, opposite the cemetery, it went. In the yard in front of the building, Chief Sanford stepped to the ground, opened the door and spoke to the car's lone occupant. There evidently was some demurring to his command. For several minutes he argued, and another crowd grew.

Then the police official pushed inside the car and stepped out again, fairly dragging a sobbing, black-clad figure. Steinholz hastened to his aid, and between them the wailing, hysterical widow was carried indoors and upstairs.

Cowen was held after admitting he loved the murdered man's wife and had been intimate with her. She, questioned at the same time, confessed she "liked Cowen very much," according to Chief Sanford.

SAYS FASTING AIDS THE EYES

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Nov. 6.—Fasting clears the eyes and also the other organs of sense and makes them more acute, in the opinion of Clement Jeffery, a naturopath. He believes in the prevention of defective vision and its improvement by methods other than the use of eyeglasses.

"The first point is that the efficiency of the eye depends to a large extent on the quality of the blood that brings nourishment to them," said Jeffery. "Their delicate mechanism can be clogged by overeating, particularly of sugar, just as the wheels of a watch are interfered with by dust."

He did not minimize the benefits that the skill of the oculist has conferred on mankind, but said parents too often resorted to eyeglasses for their children and that these did more harm than good.

Necklace of Ivory Elephants.
Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.
LONDON, Oct. 25.—The fashionable woman's passion for rings and bracelets made from elephant's hair set in precious metal is being followed up by a craze for all sorts of elephant novelties. At present it is the desire of every woman to have elephants carved from ivory round about her, either one, or a regiment of elephants. These are carved in ivory in many sizes, and are used for all manner of purposes. The last word is probably represented by a necklace of ivory elephants. In the ornament of this order there were nine ivory elephants, the largest and central animal being between three and four inches long.

JUDGE'S PARISIAN NUMBER

Official Object to Barques on French Humor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A Postoffice Department order was served yesterday on the publishers of the comic weekly, prohibiting the use of the mails for distribution of the current issue, known as the "Parisian Number." Exception was not made to the issue as a whole, the editors said, but particularly to certain articles purporting to burlesque popular French pictorial periodicals.

"The editors of Judge are at a loss to understand the basis for the department's action," declared a statement issued from the publication's offices. "The burlesques were prepared to show the misconception of French humor widely held in this country, and we think are entirely free from suggestiv-ness and really comprise nothing but wholesome humor."

Woman's Notice in Denver Paper Refers to Indictment of Wealthy Brother.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 6.—Annually for the last three years an item has appeared in the memorial column of the Denver Times, expressing the tender memory of a daughter for her departed father. Each memorial was signed, "Your Only Daughter, Florida E. Bishop Stevens, Kansas City, Mo."

To the ordinary reader the memorial was merely a formal expression of grief. A different meaning, however, was intended for Frank Lee Bishop, banker of Denver, a brother of Mrs. Stevens. Last night, Mrs. Stevens, now a widow, said the simple words of the memorial were intended by her to shame her brother. This method was selected by Mrs. Stevens, she said, because of an incident at the funeral of her father, when her wish that an old friend of the family be one of the pall-bearers was not carried out.

Frank Lee Bishop was indicted recently by the Federal grand jury and the County grand jury at Denver in connection with the failure of the Globe National Bank at Denver, of which he was vice-president. Having been on terms that did not permit correspondence with her brother, Mrs. Bishop sent another notice to be printed in the same newspaper. It read: "The mills of the Gods grind slowly, but they grind exceedingly small. Your only sister, Florida E. Bishop Stevens." The notice was intended for the indicted banker, Mrs. Stevens said. "I had no other way of getting even with my brother. I hope my notice reaches him so he knows that at last he is being repaid in kind for what he did for me. He ignored my pleas for part of my mother's personal belongings. He has been in prison for many years and has become a millionaire with great influence in Denver, but I have not heard from him in 30 years."

"My brother Frank always was my mother's favorite. She worshipped him. When my mother died and when I tried to get my share of the property, Frank showed me a deed, in which mother had deeded all the property. I failed to get anything, I have heard of him only through friends in Denver. That is how I learned he had been indicted."

COAL MINE SETS NEW RECORD

11,325 Tons Hoisted in Eight Hours at West Frankfort, Ill.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WEST FRANKFORT, ILL., Nov. 6.—A new record for coal production was established here Wednesday when the Chicago, Wilmington & Franklin Coal Co. mine "New Orient" here surpassed its own previous record by hoisting 11,325 tons of coal in an 8-hour shift. The previous record was 10,313 tons. Yesterday's output, which succeeded the former record by 1012 tons, was made with but 17 minutes' delay. One thousand and fifty men were in the mine.

REVENUE OFFICIAL TO BE WITNESS IN JACK DANIEL CASE

New owners well enough to commit himself fully.

Service to New Owners.

He said his service to the new owners consisted only of one visit to St. Louis, to advise them as to the legal aspects of the sale, and a visit to Washington, for the purpose of expediting transfer of liquor from Birmingham, which they had contracted to buy. Bond said he rendered a bill of $250 for the two trips, but was never paid.

He found officials at Washington willing to permit the transfer of liquor from Birmingham to St. Louis, but they insisted first that the St. Louis warehouse be made more secure, by installation of steel blinds on windows. He thought his new clients would be ready to do this, but his suggestions encountered only delays and inaction, and finally the tentative permission for the removal from Birmingham was withdrawn.

A series of letters written by Bond, to the new owners of the Jack Daniel Co. and their lawyers, is included in the record. Aug. 18, 1923, Bond wrote that he and Motlow were going to St. Louis to expedite matters. Later letters tell of delay and inaction, and Sept. 1 Bond wrote to the new management, demanding rent on the warehouse building, three months overdue, and threatening forfeiture of the lease. Sept. 20, Bond wrote that "it looks as if the company will not carry out its obligation."

Sept. 26, 1923, in a letter to T. F. Powell of the Jack Daniel Distilling Co., Birmingham, Attorney Bond wrote that he had learned of the unlawful "milking" of the whiskey in the warehouse. In relating the facts to Powell, he said: "Storekeepers and gaugers were changed at the place three times during the month of August. One of them enabled the purchaser to remove the liquor. All of it but one barrel was taken out, and water substituted. Sometimes, however, they failed to get all the liquor, so that some of the barrels will go to 50 per cent, running down to 4 or 5 per cent. I had a bond for $50,000 to protect the warehouse from seizure. The Government cannot find any one of the purchasers."

MAN CHARGED WITH THEFT OF STORE FUNDS ARRESTED

Police Say William Stegman Admits He Went to Chicago With Sum Given Him to Deposit.

Patrolman Kuhlman was walking his beat in the Carondelet District last night when he met William Stegman, 22 years old, in front of Stegman's home at 3708 Michigan avenue. It was the first time Kuhlman had seen the youth since last November, when Stegman is alleged to have disappeared with $177 in cash and $54 in checks which Conrad Schmidt, manager of a Kroger store, had asked him to deposit in a bank for him.

Kuhlman arrested Stegman and when questioned by Capt. Ringer, he is reported to have confessed going to Chicago with the Kroger store manager's money. He returned to St. Louis this week, Stegman told police.

He is in a serious condition at City Hospital.

"DOOMSDAY BOOK" AMONG COLLECTION AT ST. LOUIS U.

Set Presented by British Government in 1831. Deals With Titles to Real Estate.

The visit next Monday at St. Louis University of Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador to the United States, has awakened an interest in an old collection of books preserved for many years in a university library. This collection was officially presented by the British Government in 1831, which recognized the institution as a university even before its charter was granted by the State of Missouri in 1832. The collection consists of 100 volumes treating of the titles and lands in England in the eleventh century.

The first volume constitutes what is known as the "Doomsday Book" from the fact that titles to estates were declared valid from "now on until Domesday."

The collection is in an excellent state of preservation, in spite of the ravages of time, although in recent years it was found necessary to rebind many of the books. Just what occasion prompted the presentation of the gift to the young institution is not known. Possibly Father De Smet, S. J., the famous Jesuit missionary and explorer of the upper Missouri was in London about 1820 and had attracted attention to the humble little outpost of culture on the banks of the Mississippi.

SUICIDE VERDICT IN CASE OF BROTHERS WHO LEFT $9000

Coroner Vitt Says Testimony of Witnesses Indicates Plain Case of Suicide Pact.

Verdicts of suicide were returned today at an inquest in the death of Albert S. Whitehead, 47 years old and John C. Whitehead, 59, bachelor brothers, whose bodies were found in their gas-filled flat at 1901A Benton street Wednesday.

It seems to be a plain case of a suicide pact. Coroner Vitt remarked after questioning witnesses who found the bodies on a bed in a room filled with gas from a kitchen range.

A joint will found in the house provided "in case we both should die at the same time" that their property be divided between Salvation Army, Provident Association and the St. Louis Children's Hospital. It was filed in probate yesterday by the Public Administrator after cash and securities worth between $8000 and $10,000 were found in a safe deposit box at the American Trust Co.

The brothers led quiet, secluded lives and had no known relatives.

WILL OF MAN WHO SPENT SIX YEARS IN SANITARIUM UPHOLD

Request of $1000 to Bohemian Home in Chicago Sustained Against Sons' Protest.

Although he spent six years in the City Sanitarium, a jury in Circuit Judge Hogan's court today upheld the will of William Kubik, of 1819 Geyer avenue, by which he bequeathed most of his $4000 estate to the Bohemian Old Folks Home of Chicago.

Contest was by two sons who were left only $100 each. They claimed their father was of unsound mind, suffering with delusions, when he made the will in October, 1923, seven months before his death.

Former Judge J. Hugo Grimm as attorney for the home, argued Kubik was sane, that he went to the Sanitarium in 1913 because of a nervous ailment and remained until 1918 as a boarder. He denied that Kubik suffered delusions.

7000 Vienna Bakers End Strike. By the Associated Press.

VIENNA, Nov. 6.—The strike of 7000 Vienna bakers, which began four days ago, was ended today by the granting of a 5 per cent increase in the men's wages. The increase is to be added to the price of bread. A 20 per cent wage increase had been asked.

STEAMLESS OCEAN LINER MAKES 17-3-4 KNOTS

Swedish Motorship Can Cut Time From Gothenburg to New York to Eight Days.

By the Associated Press.

GOTHENBURG, Sweden, Nov. 6.—The marine myth that it was mechanically impossible to build a motorship for fast passenger service has been dispelled by the results achieved in the trials of Sweden's new steamless ocean greyhound, the "Gripsholm."

Equipped with two great motors, producing jointly 16,300 horsepower, the liner of 23,500 tons displacement, made an average of 17 3/4 knots, which means that the direct trip from Gothenburg to New York will be cut down to less than eight days as compared with the customary nine or 10.

Although the boat uses oil fuel, feet. One is used as an electric elevator and makes no smoke, two funnels vator shaft an dthe other for ventilation.

All in?
It is probably due to the fact that "all in" feeling, that is, the feeling that you are never going to get any more out of life, is a common experience. It is a feeling that is often caused by a lack of interest in life, a lack of purpose, a lack of direction. It is a feeling that can be overcome by a change of attitude, by a change of action. It is a feeling that can be overcome by a change of life.

Notice to the Public

YOU are probably like everybody else in this respect: You do not believe in throwing money away.

The entire nation today is showing a tendency toward greater economy in the purchase of everyday necessities of life.

Now—please think this over: Suppose you are today paying, say, 50c a tube for your dentifrice (and there are many excellent dentifrices selling today at that price).

Suppose, like most people, you buy about twelve tubes in the course of a year.

Now if you knew that you could obtain as good a dentifrice as can be made and still save during the period of one year the price of:

25 loaves of bread, or—	8 pounds of coffee, or—
60 bars of laundry soap, or—	a new necktie, or—
40 lbs. of sugar, or—	a pair of silk stockings, or—a box of fine cigars

—could you conscientiously fail to take advantage of such an opportunity?

This announcement, made by one of the most responsible companies in the country, is to tell you that any one of these savings is now right at your door.

As sole makers for 50 years of Listerine, the safe antiseptic, known the world over, and sold in 58 foreign countries, The Lambert Pharmacal Company could naturally not jeopardize their reputation and standing by offering anything but the highest quality of product.

Thus, in producing for the public a second great product—a dentifrice—quality was the first and most important consideration.

Listerine Tooth Paste is, therefore, today as good a dentifrice as modern knowledge can produce.

When it came to determining the price of this tooth paste, we decided that a most important requirement was that it should be priced within the reach of every purse.

This price is 25c.

We want you to try Listerine Tooth Paste with the knowledge that in using this dentifrice regularly you will be able to avail yourself of any one of the substantial savings indicated above.

If you will simply try it, we feel confident that you will become a regular user, for you will be delighted with its cleansing qualities and its unusually refreshing taste.

Take advantage of this announcement while the thought is fresh in your mind.

Go to your drug store and purchase a regular size tube of Listerine Tooth Paste for 25c, and with that other quarter you may have been in the habit of spending for a tooth paste buy that something else which you know you need.

Our experience has been that once a person tries Listerine Tooth Paste and enjoys these savings he never goes back to the more expensive dentifrices. See what your experience will be.

 Cephias L. Lucas, 61, ran in front of truck, witnesses testify at inquest.
 A coroner's verdict of accident was returned today in the case of Cephias L. Lucas, 61 years old, who died at City Hospital early yesterday of injuries suffered Wednesday noon, when he was struck by a truck driven by Santo Catanzaro, 19, of 829 North Ninth street, at Sixth and Walnut streets.
 Witnesses testified Lucas ran through the traffic directly in front of the truck, which was being driven at moderate speed. Lucas, who lived at the Pacific Hotel, 905 Market street, died of a fractured skull.

Success of Sovietism Is Said to Depend On Leaders' Adaptability

They Must Borrow What They Need From West — Reds Hold Russia Together, but Haven't Organized Its Economics.

(This is the third and last of the articles, translated from the report of the investigations made in Russia by Prof. Hecksher, noted Swedish economist.)

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch and Chicago Daily News, Stockholm, Sweden, Oct. 14.

The State Planning Committee (Gosplan) replaces free competition in Russian life. Prof. Hecksher, Swedish economist, points out. This committee is composed of 13 members, largely noncommunist scientists. Its work is done through bureaus employing 450 to 500 experts of different kinds.

All important economic proposals are submitted to this commission by various state organs which prepare them. No economic problem is discussed by the government until the gosplan has reported on it. Part of the committee's work consists in the making of statistics, especially in relation to future conditions. There is no doubt about the sincerity of the desire of the committee to create order and system.

Prof. Hecksher admits that a more thorough investigation than he could make is necessary to say whether these praiseworthy aims have been realized. But everything seems to indicate the opposite. Movements Hard to Gauge. To begin with, in this as in everything else in Russia, an impression is conveyed to unprejudiced Westerners of lack of method and plan. Anyone dealing with Russia knows that the leaders have turned from one extreme to another. They have fixed prices for grain which they have been unable to maintain. They have flung incalculable quantities of goods on to the market, then for a time released private trade only suddenly to ruin it by strangling its credit. And so on.

One is told everywhere of the Government plans for development, but it is evident that the required capital is lacking for handling this warlike crop and making the necessary renewals in industry. The absence of system and deliberate plans is also striking in all scientific institutions, the Government favoring and supporting only what happens to please the communist leaders.

The main cause is that the communists do not possess an administration equal to the task of ruling a giant country like Russia as they wish.

They lack the experience which the old bureaucratic officials, with all their faults, could not help acquiring. The members of the communist party form a sort of connecting link between the center and the outlying districts, helping to keep the country together. But to expect them and their organization to systematize national economics would be too much.

All that can be asked of them is to keep things going.

Communism's Prospects. Yet, as a principle, communism may maintain its ground, at least as a Russian institution. The West judges the value of a state by its ability to create a maximum of outer means to meet human requirements.

There is another ideal, which may be called the Eastern, that scarcely in material resources united with an inner life corresponding to the psychological needs of man is more profitable to humanity.

Does communism give the Russian people a psychic satisfaction worth more to them than money or property?

An occasional visitor must be very cautious in answering such questions. "It is quite safe to contend," says Prof. Hecksher, "that the Soviet Government cannot be very sure of this, seeing that it refuses to give the people at large the right to participate in the decisions of the state and forbids all free declarations of views."

"Communism is a doctrine imported from abroad. It cannot well find a response from the people as a whole. Every one must admit that only a small section of the Russian people is content with communism."

"Some may be in favor of preserving the new agrarian order, not because it is communistic—for it is not. Not many want the restoration of imperial rule. But that does not mean that the Soviet system is one that meets the vital needs of the Russian people."

Need of World Contact. This, Prof. Hecksher declares, he is forced back to the question whether the Soviet rulers have sufficient powers of adaptation to take what is good and efficient in western European economics. He thinks that, to a great extent, they are.

But political and social modifications are required. He emphasizes first increased intercourse between Russia and the rest of the world. Isolation creates an atmosphere of force. The lack of intellectual freedom and of justice in Russia is to the Westerner far worse than any economic difficulties.

To people who believe that man should have the right to develop freely intellectually under the laws of the condition of Russia today spells a barbarism in which Westerners cannot acquiesce.

Out of Work, Man Kills Self. Dependent over failure to obtain employment, L. A. Jones, 54 years old, a watchman, ended his life by inhaling gas from a tube connected with a gas heater in the bedroom of his home at 427 North Thirteenth street, yesterday. He was found by his wife, upon her return home at 7:30 p. m. A physician said he had been dead several hours.

SINCLAIR SAYS CALIFORNIA ACT WOULD HAVE JAILED LINCOLN

By the Associated Press.

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 6.—(Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Jefferson made statements that would have resulted in their conviction under the present California criminal syndicalism law, Upton Sinclair, author and syndicalist worker, declared yesterday in a letter to Gov. F. W. Richardson. The letter was in reply to one he received from the Governor in connection with the case of Miss Charlotte Anita Whitney, convicted under this law. The Governor declared it was his duty to uphold all statutes passed by the Legislature. Sinclair's letter said:

"The forcible suppression of opinion has been tried throughout the ages, and it never has worked. It was given a thorough trial by the Czarist government of Russia and the Czar failed. Surely you must be able to see that Miss Whitney's voice is louder in the state of California today than if she had never been arrested."

"I point out that under this law Abraham Lincoln could be arrested for reading his first inaugural address in which he said: 'This country belongs to the people who inhabit it. Whenever they shall grow weary of the existing government they can exercise their constitutional rights of amending it or their revolutionary right to dismember or overthrow it.'"

"Or, consider what would happen to Thomas Jefferson for having written: 'The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants. It is its natural manure.'"

That Wonderful Quaker Flavor

Is true Scotch flavor—only QUAKER OATS has it

THE one thing to remember in buying oats is that Quaker Oats has the flavor you want. The difference is great.

Oats, originally a Scotch dish, must have a certain Scotch flavor.

There's real Scotch tang to that Quaker flavor.

No other brand has it. None successfully imitates it. It's due to exclusive Quaker milling of the finest, plumpest oats. Milling methods which took some 50 years to perfect.

Makes all the difference in the world. Quaker flavor spoils folks for ordinary brands.

Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. No kitchen muss, busy mornings. Faster than plain toast.

Due to Quaker milling methods, it supplies, too, the "roughage" you need to make laxatives seldom necessary.

2 Kinds { The Quaker Oats you have always known and Quick Quaker—cooks in 3 to 5 minutes

BEAUTIFUL PICTURES

FOR HOME or OFFICE at Low Cost

An artist of the Post-Dispatch art department says if you want a beautiful picture in your home, which looks like an oil painting, cut out the front color page of the Post-Dispatch Sunday Magazine, and treat it as follows: Get a piece of heavy cardboard, with a rough or pebbled surface—building board will answer—dampen the back of the picture with a wet cloth, then coat the back with photographic paste, lay the picture evenly on the cardboard and rub into close contact with the board; place on a table and weight picture down for the night so it will not curl, next day paint the surface with white shellac; when dry put on a second coat; finally, when bone-dry, take a soft rag and some floor wax and polish the entire surface. If you follow these directions carefully, you will deepen the tones of the colors and insure their permanency. The finished picture closely resembles an oil painting.

FOR A YEAR, YOUTH SET FIRES

JUST TO SEE ENGINES RUN
Helped Put One Out, and His Employers Paid for Damage to His Clothing.

By The Associated Press.
TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 6.—A craving to hear the clang of fire bells and watch the fire fighting apparatus go into action caused Corydon A. Black, 22 years old, to set nearly a dozen fires here in the last year, he confessed yesterday. He was sentenced to four years.

Black, an employee in the auditing department of the Santa Fe Railroad, admitted responsibility for a fire last March 31 that did extensive damage to the railroad's new $1,000,000 general office building. He aided firemen in extinguishing the blaze. His clothing was ruined by chemicals and the railroad paid for his loss.

He also admitted he started a fire in the Rock Island Railroad Station. Twice he fired the A. M. Mills residence.

While Black and his young wife were traveling to Chicago last July he ignited papers beneath the Pullman seat he occupied. The fire was extinguished without much damage. One of two operatives of the State Fire Marshal's office, who had been shadowing the youth for months, was on the car. Recently Black learned he was being trailed, and a halt in the fires followed.

HOUSE OF DAVID SUITS FOR $100,000 DAMAGES DROPPED

Actions Were Directed Against "King" Benjamin Purnell, Who Disappeared.

By The Associated Press.
ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Nov. 5.—The civil suits for $100,000 damages brought by the "Bamford girls" against Benjamin Purnell, fugitive "king" of the House of David colony at Benton Harbor, have been dismissed by Circuit Judge Charles E. White.

These suits, brought against Purnell in January, 1924, in behalf of Gladys Bamford Rubel and Ruth Bamford Reed, sought damages for alleged advances and improprieties by Purnell, while the young women were members of his cult.

Charges by the Bamford sisters started the inquiry into the colony, where it was charged immorality was practiced by "King Ben." Warrants issued against Purnell two years ago were based upon the same allegations as were made in the civil suits. The colony leader disappeared shortly before the warrants were issued and has never been found. "Queen Mary" Purnell, his wife, now directs the colony.

YOUTH HELD FOR INDUCING GIRL TO LEAVE HER HOME

Police Say William E. Guthrie Was Recently Paroled From Boonville.

A youth, who described himself as William E. Guthrie, 19 years old, is being held by police for Federal authorities for the disappearance of a 17-year-old girl from her home about three weeks ago. The girl was found yesterday in a rooming house on Delmar boulevard and told the police Guthrie induced her to leave home. She said Guthrie took her on several trips to small towns in Illinois and last week obtained the room for her where she was found.

Detectives were awaiting for Guthrie when he returned to the Delmar boulevard address last night and, after a short chase, captured him. They say he admitted causing the girl to leave home. The youth, police say, was paroled recently from the Boonville Reformatory.

4 out of 5 decided that my drink was best of all

THEY made a thirty-day test, and measured their physical gains. A huge number have made the test thus far this year. I selected a thousand of their names, at random, and asked them the results of the test.

Four out of five had noticed a decided change for the better, and decided never to go back to caffeine—decided that Postum was their drink from that time on!

Isn't that a record? Doesn't that prove how desirable it is to get away from caffeine? Doesn't it prove that Postum has a wonderful, delicious flavor, just as I've always told you?

Think! Either you take into your system at mealtime a drink containing a full medicinal dose of the drug caffeine—or you enjoy in its place a cup of Postum. Postum, made of whole wheat and bran. Postum, with a rich, full flavor that comes from this wholesome grain!

Compare these two where you can really see results—on your dinner table. Make the thirty-day test of Postum. Note the relief from drug stimulation—the cause of so much nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, and indigestion. How much better you look—how much better you feel! Then decide.

Let me send you one week's supply of Postum, free, toward the thirty-day test. Or if you wish to begin today, get Postum at your grocer's. It costs much less than most other hot drinks—only one-half cent a cup.

I am waiting to hear from you!

HOW LONG WILL THE BOOM LAST IN FLORIDA?

Florida IS, beyond question, experiencing rapid, unprecedented growth, development, improvement, tourist travel and activity in Real Estate transactions. These occurrences are actual and increasing every day. The great activity prevailing throughout the State is not fiction, but a real condition, based upon SOUNDNESS, and not the hollow, unsubstantial condition the word "boom" would tend to imply.

In agricultural and general development opportunities; climatic, scenic and recreational advantages, Florida today stands foremost, without competition, and convenient to three-fourths the population of the country.

Tourists annually in the past have enriched the state by an amount estimated at close to fifty millions of dollars, and yet only 1% of the 15% of those financially able to enjoy Florida's advantages have visited the state each season. The TRUTH about Florida—untold for centuries—is just being learned by those people and others who are looking for freedom from the rigors of winter, and thousands are today moving southward to share in her opportunities.

The millions of dollars already expended by some of the nation's shrewdest, most sensible business men, in development of Florida's resources, are but the beginning. Millions more are now being expended and contracted for investment. They are giving added substantially to values throughout the state and Florida's growing popularity, improvement, development and opportunity for money-making can safely be counted upon to continue, and with gathering impetus, for a number of years to come.

The wise will investigate; the unwise will continue to hang back and attempt consolation with the thought that "it won't last long." In the meantime, however, hundreds and thousands are enjoying life in a wonderful climate, AND ARE MAKING MONEY. We KNOW Florida—write us for desired information relative to any section in which we have offices.

TRIAL BEGUN OF $35,000 SUIT AGAINST MME. PETROVA

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Mme. Ol-Petrova, actress and playwright, was in vain yesterday for her to take the witness stand because she was guilty of plagiarism
and a jury and deny, in person, that she wrote "The White Peacock," in which she starred.

William Henry Roberts, British consul officer, is suing Mme. Pe-trova for $35,000 damages, alleging that in "The White Peacock," she appropriated the plot and dialogue of his play, "La Rubia."

Mme. Petrova accepted and in rehearsal six weeks.

On her direct examination before Mme. Petrova told of entering an agreement with Roberts through his representative, Albert Canby and of putting Roberts' play into rehearsal.

Petrova told of making several changes in the play, including the change which she made "The Eighth Day" after rehearsing six weeks.

After rehearsing six weeks and decided not to put it on and Roberts the $1000 forfeiture provided for in her agreement. According to Roberts, she did not,
however, return him his manuscript.

Mme. Petrova testified she wrote
"The White Peacock" in 1921, the first draft in about three weeks.

Mme. Petrova asserted "The White Peacock" was not "The Eighth Day."

THREE MEN ARRESTED
FOR DEATH OF HUNTER

Prisoners Said to Admit Shooting Frank Litsch Was Killed.

At the request of relatives and friends who had tried for almost a month to find the man who shot and killed Frank Litsch, 22 years old, of 4722 Minnesota avenue, as he hunted ducks with his fiancée on a sandbar in the Mississippi River, Oct. 11, Detective-Lieutenant Aylward yesterday went to southern St. Louis County to investigate. Today he has signed statements from three prisoners who admit they were shooting at targets opposite the sandbar.

One prisoner, Thomas Kelly, 40 years old, an iron worker, 6002 Kingshighway Southwest, surrendered a powerful Krag-Jorgensen rifle such as killed Litsch, and admitted he fired across the river toward the sandbar.

"I am sure I was the only one who fired the Krag rifle," he said in his statement.

Engaged in Target Practice. The other prisoners are Edward Saller, 30, of 917 Regina avenue, St. Louis County, and Arthur Kawela, 27, 905 Regina avenue, St. Louis County, a relative of the owner of a private preserve near the mouth of the Meramec River, where they engaged in target practice. They were turned over to Clayton authorities last midnight because the shooting occurred in that jurisdiction.

The relatives of Litsch with his fiancée, Miss Helen Tikart, of 3138 Noosh street, went to Police Headquarters Wednesday and asked for help. Since the shooting, they said, they had investigated and discovered the shots were fired from a private preserve owned by a farmer named Weis living nearby, who refused them information.

Lieut. Aylward volunteered to help. He called on Weis who informed him that he had given the key to his preserve to his relative, Kawela, on Oct. 11 so that he and two friends could shoot there. He supplied names and addresses which enabled Aylward to arrest the three men last night.

The statements agree that the men spent about two hours shooting at targets back from the river. Then, Kelly's statement continues, he picked up the Krag-Jorgensen and fired at a log near shore.

"Then I fired at a bird toward midstream," it continues. "I fired two or three shots and missed it. Then I took several shots at a log in midstream and three shots at another log about two-thirds across."

"After the last shot at a log a person who looked like a man but with a woman's voice started to scream. Somebody remarked, 'I guess she's getting scared at the shooting. We'd better move on.'"

Kelly said he heard nothing of a shooting until several days later when Kawela remarked, "Do you know we killed a man Sunday? I read it in the paper." Kelly said he thought Kawela was joking and dismissed the matter. Each prisoner insists that he individually had heard nothing definite about the shooting until they were arrested.

At the time of the shooting, Miss Tikart said she saw three men shooting toward them from the Missouri side. "We'd better leave here," Litsch remarked and a moment later he was shot. Miss Tikart swam 150 yards to the Illinois shore, but when she returned with help Litsch was dead.

Immediately after his funeral Miss Tikart began the investigation which resulted in yesterday's arrests, with the help of Litsch's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Litsch, and his sister, Mrs. Ella Hedtkamp.

GETS MAXIMUM TERM FOR ATTEMPTED PAYROLL HOLDUP

Joseph Simon, 23, Alleged Cuckoo Gangster, Sentenced by Jury to Five Years.

Joseph Simon, 23 years old, an alleged member of the Cuckoo gang, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by a jury in Circuit Judge Mix's court yesterday for attempting to hold up G. B. Clark, cashier of the Rice-Hutchins Shoe Co., 1408 Washington avenue, Jan. 15, last. The penalty is the maximum for attempted robbery in Missouri.

Simon, who lived at 717 Chouteau avenue, was identified by Clark as one of two men who held him up at Thirteenth street and Washington avenue on the afternoon of Jan. 15, and beat him with a revolver when he refused to hand over a $1400 payroll he was carrying. The robbers then became frightened and ran away without obtaining the money. Simon denied the charge on the witness stand, declaring he was being treated in a dentist's office at the time of the robbery. The dentist failed to appear as a witness.

James Michael, 18 years old, of 909 South Ninth street, charged with Simon in the case, will probably not be tried here, as he is now in the custody of East St. Louis police on a murder charge.

Jamaica Rejects New Constitution.

By the Associated Press. KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 6.—A select committee of the legislative council today prepared a memorial to King George rejecting the new constitution giving the Governor power to override decisions of the people's representatives, even on trivial matters.

CHURCH ISSUE IN SWEDEN

Conflict Develops When Convocation Beats Government Proposal.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News. (Copyright, 1925.) STOCKHOLM, Nov. 6.—The issue which Swedish Socialists have raised regarding separation of the church from the state has come to a new head. A serious conflict has arisen between the Riksdag and the church convocation over the question of the right to hold funeral services inside churches otherwise than with the ritual of the established church.

Under Swedish law all legislation concerning ecclesiastical matters must go before the church convocation before becoming valid. Both Houses of the Riksdag carried a Government measure permitting other services than the church ritual for funerals within the churches. The convocation was urged by a Government representative to agree to the measure. After a four-day debate the convocation voted 17 in favor and 41 against the Government proposal.

NO TAXES IN CITY OF 11,000

South River, N. J., Derives Revenue From Own Power Plant.

By the Associated Press. SOUTH RIVER, N. J., Nov. 6.—The record in this municipality of 11,000 of no local taxes is endangered only by the intrusion of politics.

Revenue from the city-owned power plant and from license and franchise fees kept the tax wolf away during the last year. Mayor Allaire now stipulates that if politics is held in abeyance the city can continue the no-tax program and at the same time reduce power rates. When borough officials last fall took up consideration of the 1925 levy, they found surplus revenues of $45,000 on deposit. Rates for lighting current were reduced to those charged by competitors and local taxes abolished.

MELLOW hardly describes Kraft Cheese. It doesn't do it full justice. For it is also wholesome, satisfying and strength-giving.

All cheese should be good cheese; should be properly ripened and mellow; should be fresh, wholesome and full-flavored—but it isn't. Kraft Cheese is; that's the difference.

Kraft Cheese is good cheese, made by someone responsible for its quality, with a trade name for your guidance when buying.

PEOPLE OF THE CONGO GIVING UP FETISHES

Missionary Reports Natives Are Showing a Liking for Schools.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK.—When I came to the Congo nine years ago there were fetishes and witchcraft in every village, but great changes are taking place now; in two villages where I passed on a recent trip into the interior, they had burned them all and in another village they said, "We will give them all up if you will only send us a teacher to teach us the right way," says the Rev. T. B. Brinton, missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Sandao, Belgian Congo, Africa, in a recent report to the Board of Foreign Missions.

"It is tremendously interesting to watch the people grow. Some develop slowly, others rapidly. Some villages oppose the school. One village accepted the school and gave up their heathen practices. In another village near by they were going to drive the teacher away. They said their people were dying since he came. After one year's work they have accepted the teacher gladly, and 120 people are attending school."

"In another village the young people have accepted a teacher, are attending school and have given up their fetishes and witchcraft. The older people say they want God but they do not want to give up their fetishes and witchcraft. I said to them, 'If you really want God, then you must give them up, because God hates them.'"

People Help in Work.

"For every dollar given by the people in America for work in the Congo our native Christians have given 12 cents this year. Many of our people have only a loin cloth for clothing, but they are giving to the work. For the first three months this year our native teachers and evangelists received $69 francs in salary; their offerings for the same quarter amounted to 187 francs. These black people love the mission and they are learning to know our Heavenly Father and His Son Jesus Christ."

About a year ago a Christian boy left for mission while I was away at conference. He went back to his village with a sore on his foot. Later I heard through another boy that he had lost all his toes on one foot. It was leprous. Two years ago I received a letter from him which read like this: 'My teacher, I write this letter to you to greet you and tell you that I am happy but I am sick. I am not afraid to die. I am praying every day to Jesus and he is able to keep me.'"

Native Teacher Writes Hymn.

"At Kapanga mission a native teacher named Chimba, whom I met with three years in translation, is also a poet now. He is not able to travel around through the villages like the other teachers because of the danger of contamination the people. But he is doing great work for his people in translating hymns. Recently he wrote a hymn entitled 'No More Death in Heaven.' The hymn is best suited to these people are very simple in theology and written so that they can be sung anywhere. He has written other hymns which have gone to all our schools covering a territory 200 miles square. Truly the Lord does use the weak things to confound the mighty."

ST. LOUIS DEAF CHILDREN ON EXHIBIT IN NEW YORK

Nine Youngsters, Demonstrating the Training Methods and Practice of Central Institute.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Nine deaf children, pupils of the Central Institute for the Deaf of St. Louis, are now in New York giving practical demonstrations of the oral and acoustic methods they have been taught. They will remain a week.

The children, who range from 6 to 10 years old, appeared before a large audience at the New York Academy of Medicine. They were able, by placing their fingers on the top of a grand piano, to conquer their handicap and to pitch their voices to the tone of the musical instrument.

They also recited, sang songs and answered questions. Their responses to all sounds impressions were made into a microphone which produced tones audible in all parts of the auditorium.

NOT A SHEIK, SAYS VALENTINO

"I Must Get Out of This Country," Film Actor Asserts.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 5.—A famous graduate of an Italian agricultural college strolled through the Union Station last night, smoking a reeking pipe and putting forth arguments to prove that he was not a sheik, but a brawny he man. The graduate was Rudolph Valentino.

Valentino said as a crowd of 500 assembled to gaze at him on his way to New York where he will board the Leviathan and spend Christmas in Italy.

"Back in Castellano I am but Rudolph Guglielmo," he said. "There I am only a young man who went away from home. Some of them are glad to see me but after I have been there two days my return is not noticed by anyone outside my family. That is grand."

He indicated he was through with women forever. He and his wife some time ago agreed on a marital vacation.

KILLS COLONY OF 39 RATTLESNAKES WITH CLUB

South Dakota Farmer Claims Record for That State This Year in Slaying Reptiles.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D.—Charles Luken, a farmer of the Murdo district of Western South Dakota, is the champion rattlesnake killer of the State. He gained this title in a wholly unexpected manner, and when he started in slaying the snakes he never thought he would kill enough to give him the State record for the year.

Luken was making hay on his farm when he ran upon a nest of rattlers, which at this season of the year assemble in colonies preparatory to going into winter quarters. Instantly upon discovering the rattlesnakes he grasped a club and started an attack upon them.

When Luken had dispatched the last of the rattlers, he counted his "kill" and found that during the lively and dangerous fight he had killed 39 rattlesnakes.

ARGUES THAT FUNERALS WILL DEPRESS ORPHANS

Jewish Home Superintendent Objects to Undertaking Place Next Door.

A funeral parlor in the residence at 2125 Lafayette avenue, next door to the Jewish Orphans' Home, would be injurious to the 40 children housed there because the almost constant procession of caskets, mourners, and funerals would have a depressing effect on their young minds, argued Superintendent Lazer Grossman of the Orphan's Home in Circuit Judge Miller's court yesterday.

Grossman and others seek to restrain Mrs. Elizabeth J. Schnur from opening undertaking parlors at No. 2125. Arguments were presented yesterday that the funeral parlor would injure property values in a residential neighborhood; that it would have a depressing effect on adults as well as children; and that odors from the place would constitute a nuisance.

Much testimony on the depressing effect of an undertaking parlor was ruled out. "Mortality is the common debt of man and death is not improper," the Judge remarked.

Mrs. Schnur asserted that she intended to conduct her parlors so that caskets and mourners would not be visible from the windows of the orphans' home; that there would be sufficient room so that mourners would not have to stand outside; that the only music permitted would be singing; and that all embalming would be done in the basement, so no odors could escape.

Her counsel also brought out that there was an undertaking establishment at 3025 Lafayette avenue, and that 70 funerals a year were conducted from the immaculate Conception Church across the street.

Mrs. Schnur operates as the E. J. Schnur Undertaking Co., now at 2652 Chouteau avenue. The hearing continues today.

GEORGE J. GOULD EXECUTORS CAN'T BE SUED, COURT HOLDS

Denies Plea to Continue Action for Accounting in Pittsburgh Terminal Deal.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Supreme Court Justice Prosser yesterday denied an application to make the executors under the will of George J. Gould, defendants in the suit against Gould and Myron T. Herick, United States Ambassador to France, for an accounting of millions of dollars. The suit was brought by Henry W. McMaster and Francis H. Skidding, as receivers of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Co., in 1910, and had been on trial four years at the time of Gould's death.

The suit was brought against the defendants as managers of the Pittsburgh and Toledo syndicate, organized in 1901 to acquire railroads in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio, and to build a terminal in Pittsburgh. The properties were consolidated in 1901 as the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railway Co. and subsequently went into the hands of receivers. The accounting suit is based on allegations that the syndicate manager used funds for improper purposes.

100 LION-TAMERS SEEK JOB, BUT 'AD' IS ONLY A JOKE

Hoax Perpetrated by Friends of Banker in Retaliation for Gift of Alligators.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—There may be an overabundance of lion tamers in this city, but none will get a job with Herbert Fleischacker, San Francisco banker and park commissioner.

Fleischacker, who doesn't own an elephant, or a lion, yesterday interviewed some 100, or maybe 200 animal trainers who had answered a newspaper advertisement which claimed the banker as head of an under-manned zoo. He turned them all down and it was then disclosed that the advertisement was a joke, perpetrated by Kenneth Kingsbury, president of the Standard Oil Co. of California, and the vice president, J. D. Hanna, in retaliation for Fleischacker's recent gift to them of two alligators from Florida.

CONVENTION OF NATIONAL BRICK MANUFACTURERS ENDS

Closing Meeting Devoted to Rendering of Reports by Officers of the Association.

The final meeting of the convention of members of the National Brick Manufacturers' Association, who have been in session at Hotel Chase this week, was held this morning. The meeting was devoted to the rendering of reports by officers of the organization.

Three St. Louisans addressed yesterday's meeting of the convention. Prof. H. A. Wheeler spoke on "Bricks and Bats," J. E. Hannigan on "Transportation Problems" and W. C. Mitchell on "Smoke, Its Cause and Cure." Other speakers at yesterday's sessions were: Henry F. Klemmeyer, Evansville, Ind.; H. R. Colwell, Department of Commerce, Washington; J. E. Lucas, Brazil, Ind.; R. T. Still, Savannah, Ga.; W. McAfee, Cambridge, O.; and Douglas F. Stevens, Danville, Ohio.

Delegates to the convention were taken on a sight-seeing tour throughout the city yesterday afternoon, which was followed by a banquet and dance at Hotel Chase last night.

Ankles that look slim, smart, adorable

JUST look at the attractive ankles you see everywhere! Look again—see how often that slenderness comes from the easy, sweeping lines of a "Pointex" heel. For "Onyx Pointex" heels are ever so skillful with ankles. When they're just what they should be, "Pointex" makes them even more entrancing . . . and when they're a bit more than they should be, "Pointex" discreetly conceals the fact. Wear "Onyx" with "Pointex" heels every day that you want your ankles to be at their loveliest, slimmest best.

ASAKA GUEST AT WALDORF WITH JAPANESE SETTINGS

Prince, Returning Home From Three-Year Tour With Love for Dancing and Golf.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The three years allotted to Noboku Asaka, Prince of the royal blood of Japan, to learn about the customs of Europe and to report to his Emperor (or the Prince Regent), have almost elapsed. That is why he can remain sight-seeing in New York only until tomorrow with his wife, the Princess Yashukiko, who is the Emperor's sister.

The mission assigned to Prince Asaka was in fulfillment of the fifth and last articles of an oath sworn by the Emperor Meiji in the first year of his reign, for the Government of Japan. He swore: "Knowledge shall be sought for throughout the world, so that the welfare of the Empire may be promoted." So Prince Asaka is hurrying back with the last word in economic, political and social thought of Europe.

And he takes back also a passion for dancing, a Princess with a taste for French clothes, an occidental skill in hitting a golf ball and an array of golf clubs that fills several bags.

His three years in London, Rome and Paris—particularly in Paris—may be responsible for the fact his face has none of the usual oriental immobility. He seems as buoyant as a Frenchman and as ingratiating as a British diplomat when he talks of peace at public banquets.

Yesterday evening the Prince and Princess were the principal guests at a dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, given by about 700 Japanese in New York and vicinity. The proceedings were entirely in Japanese, arranged by the consul, Hiroshi Saito, and sponsored by the Ambassador, Tsuneo Matsudaira.

Following the consul's brief address of welcome, the ballroom resounded to a Banquet in honor of the Emperor of Japan, led by Capt. Tokachi Tobachi of the Japanese navy. Then came the "Star Spangled Banner" and a Banquet to President Coolidge, led by Col. Nobu Morita, Japanese military attaché to the embassy in Washington.

POLICE REVOLVER IN SALOON

Bartender Says He Found Weapon in the McKinley Station.

Patrolman Benjamin Lee's police revolver, which he lost in a washroom of the McKinley station last June, and which caused him to be sent before the Police Board on charges of neglect, was found yesterday. As a result, warrants charging petty larceny and possession of an unregistered revolver will be applied for against Joseph Pinelli of 2213 Clark avenue. The revolver was found when police went to a saloon at 2247 Clark avenue, where Pinelli worked as bartender, in search of liquor. The search was futile as to the liquor violation, but resulted in the finding of the revolver in a drawer behind the bar. Pinelli at first denied knowledge of ownership of the weapon, but later said he had found it several months ago in a washroom at the McKinley station.

MAN'S NAVAL FUND APPROVED

Compromise With Financial Department Averts Cabinet Crisis.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Nov. 6.—Viscount Kato,
the Premier, has arranged a compromise between the finance and navy departments, which had been unable to agree on the navy's proposal for an appropriation of 23, 000,000 yen ($11,500,000) for the replacement of auxiliary naval vessels.

Under the compromise, the amount of the appropriation will be changed, but will be spread over a longer period than the five years proposed by the Navy Department. As a consequence, only a small sum will be available for naval construction during 1932, and this will be expended in replacing few destroyers. The compromise, it is believed, has averted a cabinet crisis. Admiral Takarashi, naval minister, it is reported, has threatened to resign unless the appropriation was approved.

SH BARON BEHIND IN RENT

DUBLIN, Oct. 18.—A title in Ireland is not a guarantee of means.
Cork Sir Thomas Moore, the seventh holder of one of the old British baronetcies, created in 1811, has just had an order of seizure made against him from his humble home because he had failed to pay a rent of 16 pounds ($25.60). Sir Thomas is 81 years of age and the magistrate put a stay on the order on the order.The heir presumptive to the baronetcy is the eldest surviving son of the ninth baronet, Sir Emanuel Moore, who emigrated to the United States. The family motto is "The brave man may fail, but can never yield."

New York Sugar.
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The raw sugar market was quiet early today and in absence of business, prices were unchanged at 3.60 for No. 12 and 3.50 for No. 14.

Raw sugar futures were less active, but the tone was easier with prices at midday 2 to 3 points net lower under continued selling for trade and Cuban accounts.

No chances occurred in refined sugar with prices ranging from 11.00 to 11.10 for time granulated. Demand was fair, but all of a future to month character.

Sugar futures closed as follows: Approximate sales, 39,000 tons; December, 11.00; January, 10.90; March, 10.70; May, 10.50; July, 10.30; September, 10.10; November, 9.90.

"It's Gone!"
—cries the man who owned a car half an hour ago.

In less time than it takes to tell it an automobile thief has made off with an investment of a thousand dollars or more.

The car may be recovered or it may not. If recovered, in what condition will it be after the thief's ructions about it?

Likewise, a garage fire may quickly destroy this investment or do irreparable damage.

An automobile Fire-and-Theft Policy will protect you against either contingency. We can secure you one in a reliable company.

FIVE STORIES FALL

THE DIVINE LADY

"The Divine Lady" is the story, partly fiction but largely based on fact, of Lady Emma Hamilton, the Englishwoman of lovely birth who became one of the best known and most talked about women in all Europe.

CHAPTER SIXTY-TWO.

THE Immortal, the lesser gods, watch their prey at leisure and, one would say, with ironic amusement. The angels may weep but it is certain they laugh. Emma's plans were nearing fruition, and, again granting the initial error, were they so unnatural? Her husband was gone; that chapter finally closed; and every hope for the future grew nearer and more dazzling. If any untoward fate were to remove Tom Tit, she herself would succeed her and live at Merton and in London be all her heart's desire with Nelson and the little "adopted" Horatia. And, if Lady Nelson unkindly persisted in living, there was at the worst the sunny dukedom of Bronte in lovely Sicily; and there was the long been Nelson's wish to retire and live in peace among his own vineyards with his Santa Emma and his Horatia. The simple kindness of people there would take them unquestioning. Marie Caroline could not do less than spread a protecting wing over them and life might drift away like a dream and Nelson be blessed as he never had been blessed by. Of course, London would be her choice, with the opera singers coming and going, and the gay old Duke of Queensberry who was so much attached to her that she had even visions of a legacy there also if the friendship continued. But after all, the old Castello di Maniace in Bronte could be filled with guests, and Italy had its pleasures and—many dimly agreeable things ran through her brain in those days of freedom. She was really not pinched for money at the moment. Nelson allowed her £100 a month for the housekeeping at Merton, and with that and Sir William's annuity she might have managed well but for a large but—her own incorrigible extravagance and incapacity for saving no either to her or to anyone else. How could she do without a little house in London?—and there was a charming one in a charming neighborhood, Clarges street, out of Piccadilly. She must have that. And the expenses would be small. For at Merton because the French were at their old game and Nelson was again ordered to sea—to the Mediterranean, to Naples, where he would see her adored Marie Caroline and, besides, her Emma; for indeed it appeared as if that ungrateful Majesty were forgetting her steadily but surely. Possibly the Queen felt that her friend's services had been well paid with £10,000 worth of diamonds and other Royal gifts and such Royal condescensions as fall to the lot of few blacksmith's daughters. Yes, it all promised exceedingly well, and Emma found her widow's cap, if so the king could be described, "The val bonnet de la liberte."

Greville was troublesome certainly. He was cold and sharp. He no longer cared to hide his dislike and he hurried her out of Piccadilly house in a way which any self-respecting widow would resent. Still, she remembered the past with a certain tenderness, and he had had his uses. The "little Emma," now a woman, had been edged off to a situation abroad without any certain knowledge as to her parentage, and was heard of no more. He might be useful also in her endless petitions to the Government for a pension as a reward for her own services in the matter of victualling the British Fleet before the Battle of the Nile. But that unfortunately fell flat. There was a prejudice against her in high places which she could never understand. Against Nelson also, though he was the darling of the people—who had alas! no pensions to bestow. But he would win fresh honors, prizes, rewards, in this commission and then all would be well.

His love letters were always as passionate as the first he had ever written her. He would scarcely allow himself any recreation ashore in the lovely Mediterranean lands but she should be jealous of the dark-eyed signora. She had no anxieties there. Indeed, she might enjoy herself in perfect security in London with old G. (as they called him) and his revellers, and Emma was the first and gayest of them all. She had her admirers and Nelson wrote, with a jest which stings a little:

"Never mind the great Bashaw at the Priory. He is damned! If he was single and had a mind to marry you he could only make you a Marchioness but, as he is situated and I situated, I can make you a Duchess, and, if it pleases God, that time may arrive—Amen, Amen!"

An odd invocation, but cheering to Emma.

In the January of that year Nelson's second daughter was born—another "little Emma," for, all unknowing of the first, that name commended itself to him. Her life, however, was brief, and the charming mother resumed her gaieties untrammelled. With this, and the threatening of blindness he had enough to trouble him on his apparently hopeless quest of the French Fleet, and never was his triumphant greatness in public affairs better shown than in that long and dogged patience. He never went ashore from June, 1803, until July, 1805. All his thoughts were concentrated on Emma and on the French Fleet, and in truth they meant the same thing for without the conquest of the one he could not hope to see the other, so firmly were the country's eyes fixed on him. It is a relief to turn from that hectic life of Emma's, with its noisy assumption and petty cruelties to the deserted wife, to the pure austerity of his life on the high seas.

Gradually, the man was escaping from her clutch, resolving as adieu does in approaching the sun, into pure glory. There is a clear wind blowing now, the wind of the great oceans and the noble deeds of men. Who can read the account of that long passionate hope-deferred chase without a pang of sympathy? Let us turn to it.

I who write have heard the tale of it as a child from an old, old man of my own blood, who was serving as a young midshipman in the gallant Capt. Parker's Amazon—Parker a nephew of the great Lord St. Vincent, Nelson's teacher and friend. Who could forget that gallant story who has heard it from the lips of one who shared it all? Nelson, misled by a false report that Villeneuve, the French Admiral, was about to attack the West Indies, made what speed he might for the Gulf of Para. Ten sail of the line pursuing eighteen. At Barbados he was reinforced by two line of battle ships, and thence made what speed he could for Trinidad.

Reaching the Gulf of Para, he summoned his captains on board the Victory, and my relative accompanied Capt. Parker as midshipman of his boat, carrying some official papers with them, which he followed him to the poop. The officers gathered about Nelson, and pointing in the direction of the island, he said:

"The French fleet is probably there. They have all sail of the line. The Victory will take three. Canopus, Spartiate and Belleisle will take two each, and the rest of you, one apiece. Now, gentlemen, the fleet is equal."

Yet this was no foolhardiness in spite of his gallantry, for, ship for ship, Nelson's fleet was more equal to Villeneuve's than the one which he commanded at the Nile had been to that of Rodney's. There was the flash in Nelson, but there was also the thunder to back it. That must never be forgotten.

And later, off Toulon, came the same Parker's famous dash for Lisbon in the Amazon, under Nelson's orders to avoid Sir John Orde, the Admiral, who, according to the Nelsonic notion, was robbing him of his frigates and too jealously guarding the bounds of his own station to the west. Parker was to avoid ships like the devil!

"And if it comes to a court martial," says Nelson with humor in his face, you shall not be broke through Sir John Orde's senior officer. I will stand by you. Take your orders and good-by. And remember, Parker, if you can't weather that fellow, I shall think you have not a drop of your old uncle's blood in your veins!"

Off and away went Parker burning with zeal, and as he passed Spartiate, to behold Sir John Orde's squadron taking in easy in the moonlight! Parker might have slipped past, but, alas, an outlying frigate, lynch-eyed, commanded by "little good Capt. Hoste," who had borne Nelson's dispatches to Naples after the Battle of the Nile, caught sight of the Amazon lying low and gave chase and had the brimming with Orde's jealous orders that no ship should proceed to the westward. Parker buttonholed him in his cabin.

"Capt. Hoste, I believe you owe me your advancement in the service to my uncle, Lord St. Vincent, and to Lord Nelson. I am avoiding Sir John Orde's squadron by desire of Lord Nelson. I must go on."

Hoste stood dumb and doubting.

Parker, being his senior, he could not delay him on his own authority, and with Nelson behind him—Parker saw the doubt and continued: "After all, would it not be better if you were not to meet the Amazon tonight, Capt. Hoste?" Silence. Hoste went quietly over the side and back to his own ship in the moonlight. He had not met the Amazon. Mahan tells this story finely, but it is something to have heard of the Villeneuve chase from a man who took part in it.

It would be a gallant tale to write the incidents of that long cruise with its seemingly unsuccessful ending. Yet not unsuccessful, for it prepared and paved the way for the struggle of giants to follow, and the English people knew it and hailed him as the conqueror he was when he returned for his brief three weeks' respite to England before the last and greatest struggle of Trafalgar.

Portsmouth, London, surged about him. What did Lady Hamilton or anything matter where their hero, their darling, was concerned? "I met Nelson in a mob at Piccadilly," said Minto, "and got hold of his arm, so that I was mobbed too. It is really quite affecting to see the wonder and admiration and love and respect of the whole world. It is beyond anything represented in a play or in a poem of fame."

Beyond everything. The instinct was true, was right. Because he had not the evil skill to hide that one fall in his great life as a wicked man would have done with easy hypocrisy: was he—Nelson—to be scorned? God forbid, they thought and said. But, oh, but, oh, that it had been for a worthier woman! The inadequacy of the divinity to the sacrifice is what breaks the heart in this story. Yet be she what she might, one is glad to remember that those three weeks at Merton were happy. His old father had gone to his reward, but the rest of the family clustered about him, his little Horatia there and Emma radiating sunshine. Even Minto, who could not abide her, owns that "She is a clever being after all; the passion is as hot as ever." Yes, and a driving force that neither Minto nor any other could estimate—a passion to be justified before earth and Heaven.

He knew that any moment might part them—he savored every instant as his sweetness touched his lips. And yet almost before it seemed possible, the call came. Cold and the beloved and trusted of the whole nation, he had to go. It was known that the French Fleet had been seen off Cadiz? Not he. Emma was swooning and weeping all over the dinner table, according to Minto. Nelson's passion was burning in a clear white flame that admitted of no outward expression of emotion. His farewell to her no human eye saw, but by the little Horatia's bed he knelt and prayed while she slept. She it was who sanctified that bond to him—God's blessing made visible in a little child.

Grandmother's Chair.
I sigh for old days with their calm, stately air when I sit at my ease in my grandmother's chair! For about it the chair weaves a spell most benign with its comfort and strength, and its beauty of line, and it wakens bright visions that bring to my view the splendors were new. Lovely glimpses of the fairest among them, forsooth, is my grandmother's chair in the days of her youth. Ah, how slender and dainty, how brave and how gay was the one I remember as feeble and gray! What a glad, lilting voice, what a smile debonaire are revealed to the muse in Grandmother's chair! So it brightens my dreaming and strengthens fond ties, and I count this old chair as the loveliest prize time has saved for my joy from a long-distant day with its visions of youth that has stolen away.

Famous Fortunes:

George Eastman, King of the Camera Industry

TO George Eastman, the outstanding figure in the photographic world, whose ingenuity produced the dry plate, the film and the camera, belongs the title of "father of the motion picture industry," the fourth largest in the United States. Without the celluloid film it could never have developed to such magnitude.

Back of the phenomenal growth of the camera industry, one of the financial wonders of the world, is a story containing all the elements of poverty, pluck, hope, despair, defeat, perseverance, success and riches.

In an improvised workshop, where a youthful inventor puttered around with tools and chemicals, originated the idea which later developed into the pocket camera.

Today there is scarcely a spot on the face of the earth where the product is unknown.

George Eastman was born in 1854 in New York State, and, as the only son, the responsibility of caring for his widowed mother and two sisters fell upon his young shoulders. At 14 years of age he went into an insurance office at $1 a week, later securing a bank position at $1000 a year.

With a mechanical turn of mind, his spare time was spent in the workshop. Turning his attention to photography, then conducted by the wet-plate process, he experimented with the gelatine dry-plate. Discerning the vast possibilities in the manufacture of his new invention he took a partner and opened a factory. The output had reached $4000 a month when, like a bolt from a cloudless sky, complaints poured in from all directions. The dry-plates, at first successful, proved faulty with age. Facing ruin, Eastman sought desperately to fathom the trouble. He closed the factory and disappeared.

In four weeks he returned from England with a formula tucked inside his vest pocket and the Eastman plant once more began to hum. Followed the invention of the paper film and roll holder. In the early '80s, Eastman perfected the transparent cartridge film.

Eastman, in his later years, devoted almost as much time to the intelligent giving of money as to making it. He modestly refuses to discuss his philanthropies, but from authentic sources we learn that they total more than $20,000,000 to date.

THE DATE TREE

By ERNEST REEMAN

Nov. 6th, 644 — 1,281 years ago—Caliph Omar is assassinated. When a Kufan workman in a mosque at Jerusalem put an end to the Plundering Caliph, he unwittingly avenged posterity for one of the greatest crimes ever committed against it—the burning of the Alexandrian Library. Entering the Egyptian capital after a 7-months' siege Omar had ruthlessly proceeded to destroy the vast collection of manuscripts accumulated at Alexandria through centuries of toil and thought. Priceless papyri were burned as fuel for the conqueror's bath. 4,000, of which were heated during six months by this makeshift. A few manuscripts of Euclid and Ptolemy alone were accidentally preserved, on which is based most of the mathematical science of the present day.

Bargains in Antiques Seldom Found.

There are very few bargains to be found in the antique market. Unscrupulous dealers try to sell so-called antiques at prices which they assure the purchaser are real bargain prices. But one who knows antiques realizes that the price must be paid if one is to have a genuine piece.

It is rare, indeed, that one does find a genuine piece at a bargain price. Sometimes at the auctions which are held occasionally through New England and some parts of Pennsylvania, one can pick up something really worth while for a mere song. But these sales are usually of broken and antique dealers have their agents plentifully scattered throughout the country. It is rare that one succeeds in getting anything worth while.

It would be well for anyone contemplating the purchase of antiques to get some of the good books which are to be found in the public libraries and read up on the subject. Even then, one can be hoodwinked. But there are certain distinguishing characteristics to be looked for in antiques, which are unmistakable.

A reputable dealer will never sell you a fake, simply for the sake of the sale. He will tell you that the piece is a copy of modern manufacture. When you find someone who will tell you frankly of such things, you can trust him to know when he offers you a real antique.

Miss Susan Brandels, daughter of Supreme Court Justice Brandels, recently tried her first case before the Supreme Court, when she defended a fellow lawyer.

-o- Children's Bedtime Story -o-

By Thornton W. Burgess

In Jimmy Skunk's Footsteps

Independence, it is clear, is for him who knows no fear.

—Jimmy Skunk.

But every night Reddy Fox paid them a visit, and this they did mind.

DANNY and Nanny Meadow Mouse were wise enough to know when they were well off. You know they were on their way from the Green Meadows up to Farmer Brown's to spend the winter in his barn. There was no particular hurry about getting there. Winter was still some way off. So they could afford to take their time. That hollow limb in the Long Lane in which Danny and Nanny had found safety from Black Pussy the Cat was an excellent place in which to stay a while. So they decided they would stay, at least until Black Pussy had left and the way seemed clear. Black Pussy hung around the rest of that afternoon, but at last gave up and went back to Farmer Brown's house. However, she was back again the next day. You see, her nose told her that mice were in that hollow limb, and so she spent a great deal of time waiting for one of them to come out. This, of course, they were too wise to do, for they soon found out that Black Pussy was paying a visit there every day. "I suppose when we get up to Farmer Brown's barn we'll have to watch out for Black Pussy all the time," said Nanny.

Danny nodded. "What of it?" said he in his squeaky little voice. "It's easy enough to fool her. Cats are not half so smart as some folks think they are. I would rather have a Cat hunting me than several folks I could name. We won't have any trouble keeping out of Black Pussy's way after we once reach that barn. I never could see any use for a Cat, any way."

Danny and Nanny stayed there in the hollow limb in the Long Lane for a week. Then they decided that it was time to move along. Black Pussy still paid them a daily visit, which they didn't mind at all, but every night Reddy Fox paid them a visit, and this they did mind. Reddy had just by accident happened to sniff at the open end of that limb and had smelled them. "We ought to

for their short legs to keep up. They were following Jimmy Skunk. Jimmy didn't know it. Had he known it he probably would have waited for them. In fact, he might have gone to meet them. Jimmy likes a Mouse for dinner by way of change now and then. That's why Danny and Nanny didn't catch up with him. But they took pains to keep as near him as they could without being discovered by Jimmy.

Danny chuckled. It was a funny, squeaky little chuckle. "Jimmy is protecting us and doesn't know it," said he. "I don't fear any one else as long as I can keep as near to Jimmy Skunk as this. That is the beauty of being respected by everybody. Everybody who sees Jimmy keeps at a respectful distance. If Reddy Fox should happen along he would be most polite. I do hope Jimmy will keep right on going up to Farmer Brown's. We'll be sure to get there safely if he does."

So Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse followed in the steps of Jimmy Skunk, and Jimmy knew nothing at all about it.

Healthful Cleanliness

The kitchen, the very heart of the home, should be spotlessly clean and wholesome. This is important to the good health of the family.

The pots and pans in which food is prepared, the sink, refrigerator, the kitchen cabinet and the stove, all of these are directly involved in Healthful Cleanliness.

Old Dutch is a sure, safe means of keeping everything clean; its flat, flaky particles remove all the dirt, the invisible dangers, as well as the dirt you see. It contains no hard scratchy grit, acid or caustic; it erases dirt instead of scratching it off. This is important as scratches are catch-alls for dirt and impurities, and scratched surfaces are harder to keep clean.

The most efficient and economical way to secure Healthful Cleanliness is to use Old Dutch Cleanser. Use it every day, everywhere. Goes further—lasts longer. Doesn't harm the hands.

HERE AT LAST IS REAL RELIEF FROM EXCESS FAT!

Silph Reducing Chewing Gum

latest scientific discovery takes New York by Storm—Everyone is chewing it and POUNDS of FAT ARE ROLLING OFF!

No longer need you suffer from excess fat. No longer need you be humiliated by sarcastic looks or remarks. No longer need you starve yourself to distraction or live yourself out with exercise. With Silph Reducing Chewing Gum, the latest and most wonderful discovery ever made, every man, woman and child can today safely, quickly and easily reduce.

Silph Reducing Gum is the result of years of scientific study and experiments—it is different from anything ever devised to take off FAT. It is simple, safe, cheap and easy. It is almost like telling you to eat candies to reduce. It is just as pleasant and as harmless.

Silph Reducing Gum is not a drug nor a laxative—it contains pure extract of sea plants known for years to possess wonderful reducing properties but until now it was impossible to obtain sufficient quantities of these plant extracts to supply a public demand. Today a group of scientists have found a way to obtain it and to incorporate it in a delicious, refreshing chewing gum. When mixed with the gastric juices, through the flow of saliva it eliminates fat forming elements in the system—at the same time it is great for stomach or intestinal trouble. The quick and amazing results already obtained with Silph have simply been overwhelming. Silph sells for 50 cents a box, enough for one week, at all good drug stores. Remember that to "CHEW SILPH IS TO BE SYLPH-LIKE," that's New York's latest slogan.

Now your druggist is out of Silph you can get it from the Silph Reducing Gum Co., 123 W. 4th St., St. Louis, Mo. On sale at any of Speckhart Bros., Jewell, Judge & Lough Drug Stores, Wolf-Wilson's, Kranson Bros., Johnson Bros. Drug Stores.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS! Silph is the name of the original and genuine reducing gum. THE ONLY ONE WE PERSONALLY GUARANTEE TO BE SAFE AND HARMLESS.
